Supervisor Janoski: "Let the record show that the hour of 7:10 p.m. has arrived. The Town Clerk will please read the Notice of Public Hearing."

Barbara Grattan: "I have affidavits of publishing and posting of a Public Hearing to be held at Riverhead Town Hall at 7:10 p.m. on Tuesday, July 20, 1993, to hear all interested persons who wish to be heard regarding the increase and improvement of the facilities of the Riverhead Water District which encompasses the installation of 12-inch water mains on Northville Turnpike and Oak Drive in order to provide water to approximately 24 homes."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Is there anyone present representing the Water District?"

Is there anyone present who wishes to address the Board on this matter? George?"

George Schmelzer: "May I ask who is paying for this?"

Supervisor Janoski: "The people within the area who are served by this and the District in general. The District in general, the Water District."

George Schmelzer: "The residents along the street there?"

Supervisor Janoski: "Pardon me?"

George Schmelzer: "Who's paying? The people along the road?"

Supervisor Janoski: "The people who live within the area served."

George Schmelzer: "Oh, I see. So, for any area-- "

Supervisor Janoski: "But there is a benefit to the entire District because of the 12-inch main that is being placed and so a certain portion of the cost is absorbed by the District as a whole."

George Schmelzer: "By whom?"

Supervisor Janoski: "The entire District."

George Schmelzer: "So, no matter where you put it, the owners of the area (inaudible)."

Supervisor Janoski: "Did you understand what he said?"

Councilman Stark: "I didn't hear that. There's an echo in here."

George Schmelzer: "I couldn't hear him either."

Councilman Prusinowski: "Yes."

George Schmelzer: "The owners in the area served-- "

Councilman Prusinowski: "Two people, two different types of people are going to pay for this. People-- a small portion is going to be absorbed, paid for by everybody who is in the Water District. That's everybody, including me in Aquebogue. The majority of it is going to be paid for by the people in the newly formed District. That's the way we apportion it out."

George Schmelzer: "What proportion?"

Councilman Prusinowski: "I don't know, but generally for just for the additional 12-inch main, I think it's like 80/20, something like that. Eighty per cent, twenty per cent."

George Schmelzer: "Suppose somebody wanted one on River Road in Calverton? How would you do that?"

Councilman Prusinowski: "You have to-- we have to make an application, have an engineering study done, there's a process you have to go through."

George Schmelzer: "Oh, does the engineering cost more than the pipes?"

Councilman Prusinowski: "Well, we don't even know if we have enough assessed valuation down there to do it."

George Schmelzer: "Oh, it gets pretty close (inaudible), you got water in the river, but isn't good enough."

Councilman Prusinowski: "Put a filter on it."

George Schmelzer: "Get fish in the pipe-- in a 12-inch pipe, you can get fish. Okay."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, George."

George Schmelzer: "Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Is there anyone else present wishing to address the Town Board on this increase and improvement to the facilities of the Riverhead Water District, namely a 12-inch main Northville Turnpike and Oak Drive, in order to provide water to approximately 24 homes? That being the case, without objection, I declare the Hearing to be closed."

Supervisor Janoski: "Let the record show that the hour of 7:15 p.m. has arrived. The Town Clerk will please read the Notice of Public Hearing."

Barbara Grattan: "I have affidavits of publishing and posting of a Public Hearing to be held at the Riverhead Town Hall at 7:15 p.m., on Tuesday, July 20, 1993, to hear all interested persons who wish to be heard regarding the extension to the Riverhead Water District to be known as Extension 14A."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. This is another extension to the District. It is 14A and it is located on the north side of River Road in Calverton.

Is there anyone else present wishing to-- Steve?"

Steve Haizlip: "Steve Haizlip of Calverton. Now, when you talk about Calverton, River Road, you are getting right there close to my home. I love every time they say they are going to get water down in Calverton. The only thing is, how far does this go?"

Councilman Prusinowski: "Not far enough."

Steve Haizlip: "Not far enough. Okay. I guess, Vic, you cleared that up."

Councilman Prusinowski: "I know exactly where you live."

Steve Haizlip: "I was hoping it would come down, maybe-- "

Councilman Prusinowski: "We're getting close."

Steve Haizlip: "Getting close. Maybe you could branch off a few feet. All right. Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, Steve."

Is there anyone else present wishing to address the Board?
George?"

George Schmelzer: "Heard you say, north side of River Road. I never heard of a Water District being on one side of a road and not the other. What's going on? Did I mishear you or something?"

Supervisor Janoski: "No, it's exactly as I read it."

George Schmelzer: "What kind of a system is that, made to have water on the other side, need another main pipe? One for one side, one for the other side? Why doesn't it serve both sides?"

Supervisor Janoski: "Who said that it didn't?"

George Schmelzer: "Huh?"

Supervisor Janoski: "Who said that it didn't?"

George Schmelzer: "You said, north side of River Road. I assume the way it was said, you mean the north side only."

Supervisor Janoski: "Well, I don't believe that there's anything in the area on the other side of the road."

George Schmelzer: "You mean, if somebody had a house on the other side, they couldn't get the water?"

Supervisor Janoski: "I believe the Duck Farm is on the other side of the road."

George Schmelzer: "Well, there's a house there."

Supervisor Janoski: "George, I really don't want to argue about this."

George Schmelzer: "I don't want to argue. I'm just asking you."

Councilman Stark: "It certainly could be a part of the Water District, yes."

George Schmelzer: "Is it or isn't it?"

Councilman Stark: "The applicant on this one happens to be the mobile home park that's there, and it's coming to there and if there was a house on the other side, it could certainly join the Water District. You're misinterpreting the, you know George."

George Schmelzer: "You mean, unless he joins the Water District, he can't get served?"

Councilman Prusinowski: "You know something, we'll be more than happy to find that information for you during the week. Our consulting engineer is not here tonight. He might have thought that the meeting tonight was at the Riverhead Town Hall, so-- "

Supervisor Janoski: "Is the attorney for the park here?"

George Schmelzer: "Okay, thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Perhaps you might shed some light on this for George. George, if you would surrender the microphone. Thank you."

Mary Cronin: "Good evening Mr. Supervisor, members of the Town Board. I'm Mary Cronin, from Twomey, Latham, Shea & Kelley. I represent Olga and (inaudible) Hargis, the owners of the Calverton Mobile Park. The applicants, the Hargis', will be paying for the total amount of the cost to the development project which is fairly substantial. It will bring the benefits of Town water to the tenants in the Park and probably Town water will be-- they will have access to which they haven't had. The high cost of testing that the Hargis' (inaudible) pass onto those tenants, so they are happy to join the Riverhead Town Water District. I would like to personally thank the Board for considering (inaudible) it would not have been fair to impose that (inaudible) on the project. That actually will benefit the tenants of the Park. Many of them are senior citizens. There again (inaudible) also by keeping (inaudible) of the project to those-- many of them are on fixed incomes. Thank you very much. Any questions?"

Supervisor Janoski: "I have none, but I think you've answered a question, but thank you very much, and I see that our engineering consultant on the Water District is here. We have the Hearing open on Extension 14A."

Dennis Keller: "Good evening. So I'm a few minutes late, but Gary and I were at Riverhead Town Hall."

Councilman Prusinowski: "That's what I figured."

Dennis Keller: "My name is Dennis Keller. I'm the consulting engineer from H2M. We are the engineers for the Riverhead Water District. In late 1992, our firm completed the engineering report that evaluated the extension of the Riverhead Water District to include the Roll-In Hargis Mobile Home Park. This report was conducted at the request of the owner of the Mobile Home Park. The Park currently obtains its potable water from an on site water supply well. However, Suffolk Department of Health Services has requested that significant improvements be made to the on site water system, including corrosion control, equipment, and a stand-by generator.

In addition, the recent changes to the drinking water regulations, increase the operational costs of operating a small public water supply system. So the owner of the Mobile Home Park has decided to possibly hook up to the Riverhead Water District. That's why he asked for this study to be conducted.

The proposed extension only includes the 24 acres of the Roll-In property on the north side of River Road. The mobile home park complex contains approximately 112 housing units. In order to provide water to this site, a 12-inch water main would be needed to be installed across the frontage of the property, approximately 1150 feet. A 6-inch water service line would then be tied into the existing water mains on the site.

Supervisor Janoski: "Show them."

Dennis Keller: "The green line-- it's very difficult to see, I'll leave it on the side if anybody wants to look later. The green line outlines the (inaudible) of the mobile home park, the up here is the Riverhead Water District, so you see that the property is right outside the Riverhead Water District. The orange line represents the existing 12-inch water main that is already installed by the Riverhead Water District. The red line represents the proposed 12-inch water line that will have to be installed to service this property.

The owner will also be required to install the appropriate back-up prevention devices to prevent any contamination from the existing site to the Riverhead Water District. We have estimated the cost of-- excuse me-- we have estimated the water use generated by the park at approximately 16,800 gallons per day, with a peak usage of 42,000 gallons per day. The District has sufficient capacity to meet these demands.

We have estimated the cost of this extension at $55,000 including construction costs, our design fee, inspection. The total cost of the project will be paid by the owner of the mobile home park.

Once the mobile park is connected to the Water District, the water use will be billed out based on master meters that will be installed right at the road. In addition, the property's assessed value will generate the Water District tax base revenue of approximately $1,400 a year. Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Is there anyone present-- "

Councilman Stark: "Could I ask one question? Does this preclude anybody on the south side of River Road from hooking up to the water?"

Dennis Keller: "No. They will be outside the District and they will also have to petition the Town Board to be part of it."

Councilman Stark: "But they could hook up?"

Dennis Keller: "They could, yes."

Supervisor Janoski: "Is there anyone present wishing to address the Board on Extension 14A?"

That being the case, and without objection, I declare the Hearing to be closed.

I see a hand way in the back there."

Joseph Sikora: "My name is Joseph Sikora and I'm (inaudible) of mobile home and (inaudible) of New York State. And I would like to know if the park residents (inaudible) of this water extension."

Supervisor Janoski: "Do you know? Does Mary know?"

Mary Cronin: (inaudible).

Supervisor Janoski: "Is that your only question, Joe?"

Joseph Sikora: "Yeah, because I would like to know if they know about the water extension, because when the (inaudible) in, their rents are going to go sky high."

Mary Cronin: "This project is still in its proposed state until now, so there really would not have been any need to notify the tenants until the project was approved by the Town Board and construction undertaken. You are quite right that over the course of time, there may be and I won't say for certain because I don't know what the Hargis' intention is (inaudible), but it wouldn't be all at one time. It would be over the course of several years to amortize the cost of the project. And the residents would be getting the benefits. Right now, the cost of testing are going to escalate. Federal and state regulations require more testing, would be higher, the cost that the tenants would have to (inaudible)."

Joseph Sikora: "I was just wondering what happened two years ago when Mr. Hargis came to the Board and asked for a grant to put this water extension in."

Councilman Prusinowski: "He asked for a grant?"

Joseph Sikora: "That's right. He asked Mr. Janoski and the rest of the Board for a grant."

Councilman Prusinowski: "Oh, he did?"

Councilman Stark: "It was investigated and there was no money available."

Mary Cronin: "I'm sorry. I can't address that because I wasn't working on this project at that time, but obviously that grant was (inaudible) I mean (inaudible)."

Joseph Sikora: "I wish somebody would look into that."

Councilman Prusinowski: "There might not be any available."

Supervisor Janoski: "Let me say that the public water system is a great benefit to anyone who receives it. And it wasn't so long ago that I was scurrying around trying to find a generator to hook up to that water system in Roll-In Park so the senior citizens there would have a supply of water during and after a hurricane. The cost of this, of course, is going to be paid and probably in part by the residents of that mobile home park. But the benefits as far as a source of pure water, dependable water, fire protection, are certainly something that evens out the scale of cost. Yes, sir."

Thomas Whalen: "My name is Thomas Whalen from Wading River. I understand from the presentation tonight, that there was a fee that was waived. I want to know what the dollar-- "

Councilman Prusinowski: "We didn't waive the fee. She's asking the fee be waived."

Thomas Whalen: "May I ask what the dollar amount of that waiver will be and if there is a criteria for such a waiver?"

Councilman Prusinowski: "It's $2500 I believe per unit."

Thomas Whalen: "Is there a-- "

Supervisor Janoski: "The answer is coming."

Councilman Prusinowski: "We didn't waive any fees. She's asking us to waive the fee."

Dennis Keller: "The Riverhead Water District has a what's called a key money fee of $2500 per dwelling for any new (inaudible.) However, as part of this study it was discussed that in a mobile home park, one unit is not equivalent to a single family home, so based on the water generation design fees that are established by the Suffolk County Department of Health Services, actually one-third of what a mobile home park-- a mobile home park would use one-third the water of a single family home. So at the time it was discussed, rather than $2500, to reduce it to one-third of that cost. But since that time, I guess the applicant has requested that it be dropped since these are not new homes, these are existing homes. So if the Riverhead Water District was going to lay a new water main down the street where there are existing homes, the existing homes would not be required to pay this key money, so why should the mobile home park pay this key money. That's the point we're at right now."

Supervisor Janoski: "Sir, would you just for the record identify yourself?"

Thomas Whalen: "Thomas Whalen, resident of Wading River. What I understand correctly is that there is a requirement of a $2500 fee per unit-- "

Councilman Prusinowski: "For new construction."

Thomas Whalen: "For new construction. There seems to be in existence a regulation or a law saying there's a $2500 per unit fee. If someone is asking for a waiver, (inaudible) variance, there's a way around that fee. I would like to know what the criteria would be or when that decision would be made, would the Town Board (inaudible) the Resolution."

Supervisor Janoski: "The decision obviously has been made. I thought that our engineer had explained it. If he would, I'll try it again. If-- did you want to go through that one more time? And, are you opposed to the waiver? Is there a problem with it?"

Dennis Keller: "Key money has been in effect for several years in the Riverhead Water District. And any new development or developer approaching the Riverhead Water District to establish a new development and get water service, has to pay this key money to pay for the facilities that have been installed over the years."

For an existing homeowner in the Town of Riverhead, if they are looking to be brought into the public water system, they have not been required in the past to provide, to pay this key money. It was discussed early on in the project that maybe we would approach the mobile home park and ask them to pay it, but during the process it was decided not to."

Thomas Whalen: "I'd like to say there seems to be different criteria for a mobile home park and an average resident."

Supervisor Janoski: "Look, it's an existing park. Victor, if you would."

Councilman Prusinowski: "Okay."

Dennis Keller: "If this was a new mobile home park being proposed, they would definitely be required to pay the key money, but that mobile home park has been there for quite a few years, and they've been part of the Town of Riverhead, so they are not required to pay."

Supervisor Janoski: "If you would take the microphone again. Obviously there's an existing delivery system within the park. We are going to deliver water to the boundary of the park. The pipe delivery system is already there. We are not going to install pipes within the park. We are going to install pipes to bring the water to the boundary of the park and then that master meter which was discussed before, will measure the amount of water that is delivered into the park. I have to ask you a question, because you identify yourself as an Association of some kind?"

Thomas Whalen: "No, a resident."

Supervisor Janoski: "A resident. Okay. Did I misunderstand?"

Thomas Whalen: "It seems to me that a question that the Board was being asked, to waive a fee, and the Board was being thanked for waiving the fee. And I just want to understand why the fee was being waived and that there was a criteria for waiving fees."

Supervisor Janoski: "Well, you know, as far as criteria, there is no set criteria. But obviously the existence of the delivery system within the park is one item that was taken into account in the decision not to charge that fee. And that's basically it. That it is existing and that mobile homes do not use that particular large amount of water."

Councilman Prusinowski: "We didn't charge $2500 to go into existing neighborhoods."

Councilman Stark: "They are bringing it to that area, they are paying for it, and they are paying for the (inaudible) and all they do is tap into it."

Supervisor Janoski: "Is there anyone else wishing to address the Board in the matter of 14A?"

Councilwoman Gilliam: "Mr. Supervisor, I would like to request that the Hearing remain open to explore the issue that Mr. Sikora raised about the application for a grant to determine, first, what happened with regard to that application, and if there are grant monies that are currently available that may be used for the project in order to reduce or minimize the cost to the residents of that mobile home park."

Councilman Stark: "Rick Hanley here or Andrea?"

Supervisor Janoski: "I will be happy to keep the Hearing open until the close of business on Friday of next week."

Councilwoman Gilliam: "Fine."

Supervisor Janoski: "Not this Friday, but Friday of next week, whatever that date happens to be."

Councilwoman Gilliam: "I believe that's July 30th."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you."

Councilwoman Gilliam: "Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "So this Hearing is not closed. It is adjourned."

P U B L I C H E A R I N G O P E N E D : 7:35 p.m.

Supervisor Janoski: "Let the record show that the hour of 7:35 p.m. has arrived. The Town Clerk will please read the Notice of Public Hearing."

Barbara Grattan: "I have affidavits of publishing and posting of a Public Hearing to be held at Riverhead Town Hall at 7:15 p.m., on Tuesday, July 20, 1993, to hear all interested persons who wish to be heard regarding the consideration of amending Article III, Traffic Regulations at Section 101-3, Stop and Yield Intersections, Railroad Crossings of the Riverhead Town Code."

Patricia Moore: "The Town has proposed a three way stop sign at the intersection of McDermott Avenue and the Peconic River parking field."

Councilman Stark: "They didn't hear you, Pat."

Patricia Moore: "The Town Board is considering a three way stop sign at the intersection of McDermott Avenue and the Peconic River parking field."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Is there anyone present who wishes to address the Town Board in the matter of stop and yield at the intersection? Yes?"

Rosemary Horton: "My name is Rosemary Horton. I'm the owner of Rosie's Cake & Candy Closet in Riverhead. And I'd just like to know if any decision has been made as to whether or not the stop signs would be erected."

Supervisor Janoski: "Well, the Hearing that we are holding is, in fact, to get input of the people's feeling about putting these stop signs in place, and technically the Hearing is being held in order to put these particular stop signs into the code book, so that when they are erected, we can enforce them. The Hearing is being held to see if people are for or against the installation and the incorporation of the stop signs into the Town code."

Rosemary Horton: "Okay, I'll wait to hear if there is any objection."

Supervisor Janoski: "Are you, yourself, in favor?"

Rosemary Horton: "Well, definitely. I'm the one that proposed the letter to the Town Board in reference to putting the stop signs there. We seem to be getting more and more traffic down there, which I'm not against, and I just feel that when you come down McDermott Avenue and you come to where you should be given the right of way, you're not, and I would hate to see somebody get hurt. Just a stop sign-- "

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Steve?"

Councilman Stark: "That has been passed onto the Highway Department and the Police Department, Joe. No objection out of either."

Steve Haizlip: "Steve Haizlip of Calverton. You say that this is a three way stop sign. Does that mean that three stop signs are going to be located strategically, so to speak?"

Patricia Moore: "Yes."

Supervisor Janoski: "Yes."

Steve Haizlip: "All right, okay. Now, I know where Mrs. Horton's place is and I got a further comment to make about safety of traffic at that place. The parking field that goes down by her business and turns around and goes right to McDermott, I think that something should be, while we're on the subject of safety and putting in stop signs, I think maybe we ought to get a sign just before they approach her house and make that right turn in there, that says, slow, or something like business ahead, or some kind of warning. I mean they go around that corner pretty fast. I've seen it. So, thank you very much."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, Steve. Is there anyone else present wishing to address the Town Board in the matter of these stop signs?"

That being the case, and without objection, I declare the Hearing to be closed."

P U B L I C H E A R I N G C L O S E D: 7:40 p.m.

Supervisor Janoski: "I will now open the meeting to comment on any subject. Mr. Kasperovich."

William Kasperovich: "William Kasperovich, right here at home, Wading River. You called many times to find out where in Wading River do I live. And I keep telling them, 15th Street. However, this all comes about that the Telephone Company is making their own inquiry as to why when 929 telephone exchanges dial 911 for emergency, they get some guy down at the switchboard 30 miles away that doesn't know where we are at and many times not interested. However, and so everybody wants to know where in Wading River do I live."

However, my concern here is the intersection of the highway road that I talked about at the last meeting. I've seen Resolution #500 proposed here and proposed by Councilwoman Gilliam, which makes me quite pleased to see somebody from the other end of the Township interested in what goes on in the western end.

In order to see whether my words meant anything at the last meeting, I drove down to Hauppauge this afternoon. I waited around to see the right people and nobody in DOT got any correspondence from Riverhead. Now, this perplexes me. Either the Town Board isn't concerned or they're too busy to be involved with poor little Wading River. I could see this Resolution being written by an attorney because certain statements that were made at the last meeting and certain statements that would be made in a Resolution could put the Township at risk. However, all I ask, it seems simple enough, that the Township show DOT that we are here and we are concerned. I didn't think that kind of simple letter would be asking too much.

And the man's name is James A. Kozloski (phonetic), good Polish name. He's Regional Director in the State Office Building, Veterans Memorial Highway, Hauppauge, New York 11788. This Resolution is the kind of thing that puts us on the back burner, Councilwoman Gilliam, sorry to say. Because of non-participation of the Town Board and our elected Highway Superintendent, you people don't know that the State has made surveys, they have made studies, they have been out here dozens of times.

Now, the speed reduction that we need right now, this minute is on a State road designated as 25A. It was made quite clear that the two signs that are there now saying 40 miles per hour, are ineffective and not enforceable. We need those signs to be legally enforceable with regular state speed signs. Now, you can't tell the people in the state what to do, but you can indicate to them that, hey, our police department can't enforce this 40 miles an hour and conditions are not good. This would not expose you legally in any direction. And these people have considered this and I don't think they would hesitate if they got some word from you people to act on this. Because by the time the solution comes to this intersection, we might not be able to sleep at night for our conscience bothering us.

You're telling them about a traffic light. They've talked traffic light up and down to where they're tired of it. You're asking them to make a survey. They've been here, even as far as this morning. Now, until they give us the solution, it's a very simple affair to write to them an official letter, Mr. James A. Kozloski, Regional Director, very simple, and they'll take the ball from there. Is that asking too much? I don't see any heads shaking, I don't hear any voices."

Supervisor Janoski: "I want to wait for you to complete your statement, Mr. Kasperovich."

William Kasperovich: "Since there is no tangible evidence that the Town Board has acted on this since the fatality of our resident, it would seem to me that there is a dereliction of duty here. I'm not asking for the Town to be put out on the limb for a lawsuit. But I am asking that since we're wanting a control on a state highway, that we ask the state to do that now. Their process is quite slow, but they have picked up the ball and they need encouragement same as everybody else. The encouragement is that you show that you are here, you are alive, and you need their assistance. Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Cathy?"

Cathy Casey: "Cathy Casey, Wading River. Councilwoman Gilliam, thank you very much for writing the letter and doing what you can to try and assist us. I would just like to clarify for those in the audience, perhaps who aren't aware, that this Town has attempted on many occasions to get the State Department of Transportation to do something about Route 25A and Sound Avenue. Okay. This is not new, if anything, perhaps, we should do a little more frequently then we have done. However, that does not mean that the Town has sat back on its laurels and not attempted long before we had the death at that corner to try and get the NYS Department of Transportation to do something about that area. So just for your information, the Town has tried. Our darling State Department of Transportation consistently, as Mr. Kasperovich so candidly mentioned, has new surveys. I don't know what time they show up, whether or not they are really getting a true picture or what they are doing except they come back (inaudible). They keep saying we don't need it. They can't turn around and blame the Town of Riverhead when the State DOT no matter how many times the Town has attempted to try and get them to do something to make that a safer area, and say that the Town is doing essentially nothing. Maybe we need to do more. Maybe we need to get petitions going. Maybe we need to work together. But I personally have listened for years that the Town has been trying and I am sorry again that somebody in our midst seems to only know how to tell the Town they do everything wrong, they don't do anything right. And personally, I'm a little tired of it and I've been through this before. But that's enough of that dissertation. I just want you all to know that it's not the fact that somebody is clouding the issue here, the Town has tried.

Joe, Councilman, John Lombardi tried. I know I communicated with the man, so take it for what it's worth. My mother taught me not to lie."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, Cathy."

Cathy Casey: "Okay, I have other things I would like to bring up here. On behalf of the Wading River community, we would like to thank the Town for taking the sand from the creek and putting it in front of the homes to add some protection. We would also like to thank the Town for dredging the creek. We would like to give a special thank you to Councilman Prusinowski and Councilman Stark for their efforts also in that direction. And of course the rest of you who got together and set aside the monies to get the dredging done, we very much appreciate all your efforts and we certainly hope Lilco will foot the bill."

Councilman Prusinowski: "Will come across."

Cathy Casey: "Another thing we would also like to thank you for is Bayberry Park. Not meaning to put anything down, but Bayberry has been a little bit neglected for a while, however, things are getting done in it, and we very much appreciate what's being done there.

I have a couple of questions with regards to it, but first I would also like to thank Councilman Stark with regards to Bayberry, and also I would very sincerely like to thank Mr. Ken Testa, I don't know if he's here, for his efforts with regards to Bayberry. And I would also like to thank Ed Hudgins who I personally had a very nice discussion with regards to Bayberry. He's a gentleman and a very nice man.

Also, I have a question. I understand-- we on the Recreational Advisory Committee recommended that changing the tables down at Bayberry-- be changed to metal tables. Is it-- am I hearing correctly that we're going back to regular or are we going to go-- we got one metal table down there. Are we going to put additional metal or are we putting in some other kind of table other than metal that the Recreational Advisory Committee felt they would last longer. We wouldn't have so many problems with them as we had with the old tables. That's one of the reasons we thought the metal would be better."

Councilman Stark: "I really can't answer you on the tables right now without talking to Kenny. There was some discussion of metal and wood, maybe a combination of both or going back to wood for aesthetic purposes and stuff like that. But, I can get that answer for you in the morning."

Cathy Casey: "Okay, well, so you know, even the people that are going down there, and that leads me to Henry Pfeiffer. You know, it seems (inaudible) really like those metal tables and, hopefully, with children there and teenagers.

There's also, one other thing, I would like to thank Mr. Henry Pfeiffer for his perserverance and his gentlemanly way in which he has consistently come back (inaudible) and I know I've been at many Board meetings about Bayberry Park, but I also understand that (inaudible) the Bocci court and the shuffleboard. I think the shuffleboard just needs painting. But at any rate, thank you very much. We know (inaudible) been there, we sincerely appreciate it. We look forward to continuing the wonderful relationship with the Town. Thank you."

Councilman Stark: "Before you go, I would like to thank you for serving on the Recreational Advisory Committee representing the Wading River area. And I do believe that your Committee is about to study Bayberry Park as to improving the Bocci ball courts and the horseshoe and everything else. So, again, my personal thanks for being on the Committee. It's now doing what I believe is a job we set out to try and do. It's taken us about a year and a half, but I think we're there. Thank you very much."

Cathy Casey: "Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "At the last Town Board Meeting, Mr. Kasperovich made certain statements about the intersection at Sound Avenue, North Country Road, and 25A. I have learned over the years that it's not worth the time to argue with Mr. Kasperovich, but inasmuch as Cathy Casey has taken the microphone, let me state that the young woman who was killed at that intersection, has a sister who works for us at Town Hall, and I know her very well."

I also want to say that I went to her and I urged her to sue the State of New York, not only for the loss that she suffered, but perhaps it would prevent a further loss because the State of New York would get the message that perhaps they ought to repair that intersection. And it goes beyond a red light.

There has existed a plan for that intersection for more years than I can remember. And this Town government, and myself, and various members of the Boards have tried many avenues to get that intersection addressed. It involves a construction project of making North Country Road and Sound Avenue connect together and bringing an intersection out to the west of the gas station, which is now a Metro, and making a 45 degree angle intersection with a red light.

We have tried everything we know how to do to get that job done. I've talked to our State legislators. I know other members of the Board have done the same thing. We have written letters, and I believe we have passed Resolutions. So I thank Cathy Casey for being aware of what the Town Board has tried to do over the years. We are well aware of the fatality and as much as the young lady who works with us is taking care of the children of the young woman who was killed.

So that we know, Bill, what happens in our Town and we're making those efforts. And it would be nice, Bill, if maybe if you asked once in a while what was happening rather than to make some of the statements, most particularly that you made at the last Town Board meeting. I didn't feel that it was proper to comment then because what was the use? But we are very much concerned about the people in this Town and when you know first hand the sister of the woman who was killed, and that she's your employee, and now she has the responsibility of taking care of the two children who were left without a mother, we feel a little bit extra. And that's basically all I want to say about that.

Yes, ma'am."

Jane Alcorn: "My name is Jane Alcorn, and as a resident of Wading River and former President of Century Farms Civic Association we have been very concerned about that intersection as well. And we've contact the State; we've contacted Assemblyman Sawicki and Senator LaValle to try to get some action from the state, and the transportation people that are creating a lot of that problems. We tried many, many times to get-- and we get told everytime that they have looked at the situation, there's not enough traffic, and that's what they keep telling us.

So, I know that-- I've even had letters and calls from Assemblyman Sawicki, he tried to do a lot as well. And that effort continues."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Is there anyone else wishing to address the Town Board on any issue. I see a hand back there. Oh, my old pal."

Bob Panchek: "Good evening. Bob Panchek from Reeves Park. First of all, I would like to invite the Town Board, we're having our annual beach party this weekend, on Saturday, if anybody would like to come with their family, they are all welcome.

Secondly, I would like to talk about the progress we're making with the relocation or realignment of the boat ramp. It's somewhat ironic that we come here this year to talk about this after the heated debate we had last year and I would like to get a little bit of an update of where we're going. We had a-- the Town Board authorized a study, a feasibility study for realigning the ramp.

That was sometime in the fall. I think early in the winter, that feasibility study came back. After that, the Town Board authorized I think twice to do a final engineering analysis of that. I understand that plan is back and I'd like to find out where we're going. This is the second summer that we have very limited access to the beach and I'd like some sort of an update if you have one."

Councilman Prusinowski: "You're correct. We have received a recommendation from the engineering firm that was presented to the Town Board and we haven't made a final decision on whether or not -- I'll tell you, my opinion of whether or not I think that's the proper way to go. I don't know if I'm interested in spending $110,000 on something-- I have to talk to them on a personal basis. Bob, I think you and I have talked about it. I had a concept in mind that was a lot less costly and I don't know if that can be achieved or not."

Bob Panchek: "I think if you look at the drawings, where the new ramps and the old ramps go across each other, that's the same elevation as the drawing that we had done over the winter about possibly just adding a little ramp going to the right and the point where their ramp crosses the old ramp, is at the same elevation. So the problem with the steepness of the slopes seems to have been eliminated."

Councilwoman Gilliam: "Mr. Panchek, at the work session last Thursday, I asked Ken Testa our Town Engineer and also Young & Young was present, whether or not you had an opportunity to review the final engineering sketch and comments on that, and the response was essentially that you were aware of it. And I'd just like to know, did you have an opportunity to review it and have some input and comment with regard to that final plan that Young & Young presented?"

Bob Panchek: "I did. Kenny gave me a set of plans. Like I said, the junction between the new ramp and the proposed ramp, excuse me, existing ramp and the proposed ramp, is at the same elevation and the original problem was they couldn't put the ramp in the way we had proposed over the wintertime was because it was too steep. Now, they're changing the whole ramp around and they are starting in that same position, at the same elevation, and going to the same ending, so it's the same slope by the ramp. I don't understand what the problem was over the winter. Do we have any timetable as to where we are going from here?"

Councilman Prusinowski: "The timetable is to-- the timetable is to do it right and not spend a lot of money foolishly. Okay. We are already into July. Let's see if we can get it-- achieve our goal without spending money foolishly. I want to look at it closely. Okay? And I'll talk with them."

Bob Panchek: "Okay. Thank you."

Bob Granger: "Bob Granger, Reeves Park. Just to add what Bob Panchek spoke about. We have been going on this for a long, long time. We came up with an alternate plan which would have cost approximately $49,000 to put in the alternate ramp. At that point, the Board voted to give it to an independent contractor, engineer, to draw up the plans and somehow or other, it got back to Young & Young again, who said that they were going to do it anyway. Young & Young took the plans and more than doubled it. And my question is when the Board voted and approved the (inaudible) to an independent contractor, how it got back to Young & Young and we wasted another five to six months. If in that time it had been done the way it (inaudible) everybody-- the whole job would have been done and everybody would have been happy."

Does anybody have an answer to that?"

Supervisor Janoski: "I happen to have an answer, sir, and you are not an engineer as I understand it, nor is Mr. Panchek."

Bob Granger: "Mr. Panchek is an engineer. I know that."

Supervisor Janoski: "Well, if Mr. Panchek is willing to put his seal on those plans and take the liability for those plans, then I guess we can move ahead. If that is not the case, then we have to proceed very carefully because we represent-- the people of the Town Board, are liable for anything that should occur as a result of the design and construction of the facility that we have been discussing all these times."

And it is our responsibility to make sure that what is designed is properly designed with proper grades and angles, et cetera. And that's what the Town Board has been discussing. Mr. Young was asked questions about the degrees, the angle of the roadway, the width of the roadway, and those considerations. We cannot take this lightly as you can because if we get sued, you walk away."

Bob Granger: "We're not taking it lightly."

Supervisor Janoski: "Well, I'm giving an answer as to why we did what we did. And that's basically it. We are responsible. You are not."

Bob Granger: "Is the Town-- what we're trying to get is there a consensus on the Board that they are willing to do something, is it just a question of dollars? We've been trying for a year to get an answer to this."

Supervisor Janoski: "You're absolutely right. I think the Town Board entered into this with the desire to solve an existing problem, and we are moving toward a solution. However, that solution does represent the expenditure of a great deal of money. And I can't speak-- and I think it's unfair of you right now to ask the Board's position because we have not reached one. We just had a meeting at the last work session to discuss it and to look at the plans and to work with the engineers. At some point we will, in fact, reach a conclusion. And your coming to the microphone and saying some of the things that you've said, are not helping. You have tried to give the impression to the members of this audience that you came up with a solution at half the cost. You are not, sir, an engineer, and we-- I will repeat, have got to be very careful when we engage in the design and construction of any project, because as has been discussed here previously, there are liability factors. And we must be constantly aware of that, so you'll get your-- if I remember what Adelaide Stevenson was told, you'll get your answer in due course, and the Town's deliberations."

Bob Granger: "Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Sid Bail wanted to get up there a while ago, and let's let Sid go."

Sid Bail: "Gee, I wish I had something very important to say. This will probably be the last time that I'll address you as President of the Wading River Association. During the past two years, I want to take this opportunity to say that I really appreciate the support of the leadership position of the Riverhead Town Board has taken on a number of very difficult issues, some very large issues, such as the jetport, and more recently, the concern over the proposed high speed ferry. I appreciate your support for the integrity of not only the Wading River Hamlet Study, but the Hamlet Study process and I think that's extremely commendable and I just can't say enough for you folks, all of you, for your support.

On one note, one point in question, the parking lot along Hulse Landing Road, we've talked for the past two years, even before that, that something should be done and what is the status of that?"

Supervisor Janoski: "Sid, in coming here this evening, I kind of knew this was going to come up inasmuch as I saw a very well done flyer down at Town Hall concerning the parking lot and I didn't quite understand the flyer or its intended message. But let me say that this parking lot goes back to I think 1952, and I did some research which is why I know this, some years ago I did this research. And it seems that at some point in time during that period, there was an intent for the Town of Riverhead to establish a Town beach at the end of Hulse Landing Road in an acquisition of some property from the Hulse family.

We, not we but the Town of Riverhead at that time, built said parking lot without having any beach. And the deal for that beach obviously never went through although I have some suspicions about a lot of things because none of it made any sense to me.

So over the years, we've had a parking lot with no Town facility. The Town owns the width of the road, which I believe is 40 feet and that goes straight down to the water's edge, and I guess some folk do use it as a beach, perhaps launch some boats there.

But yet we have this large parking lot. The flyer today indicated that the Town spends taxpayers money on parking lots in the Town. Now, I didn't know exactly what parking lots were being addressed. If it's the parking lots downtown, that's not the case, because that's a parking district and those parking lots are financed by the businesses which are downtown. If it is the parking lots at our beach facilities, one would think that the people would want us to maintain parking lots at facilities which we operate, especially since we do not operate a facility down on Hulse Landing Road. My personal feeling, and I think I've expressed it over the years, is that I would like to divest the Town of that property where the parking lots are.

But in answer directly to your question, the parking lots have been assigned a resurfacing job. The paperwork has been done. The money has been encumbered, which means that it's set aside for that project. Now, you may agree or disagree with the reason that we are waiting, but we are waiting until a construction project down there is completed because of the use of the parking lot as a staging area, so to speak, for the project. Now, I don't know, and I'm sure that there are various opinions on what the position of the Town should be in this matter, because obviously a number of people have work done in their other properties and use that parking lot for equipment of storage and materials. Is that right or wrong? I'm not quite sure, and I don't know what people would like.

I have discussed the creation of a code which would prohibit the use of municipal lots as an area for commercial vehicles. But you have to understand, should that be enacted, and if anyone is having work done on their property, that that use of that property would no longer exist. And I would look to you, Sid, as well as the members of the Board to answer that question. Because it is one that has troubled me not here so much as in the downtown area where I see our municipal lots being used as a parking spot for tractor trailers, taking up numerous parking spaces. So there's a conflict here and the parking lot will be resurfaced, the money is there, and we are simply waiting 'til that project is completed.

Now, I've talked to Florence over there, and Florence has desires that the parking lot be somewhat closed off from access. And I'm sure that that idea is shared. Also, I believe that there's the idea that as with recreational parking lots, it should be closed at 10:00 and there should be no parking within it at all. And we can address that if that's the wish of the folks out here. But a simple direct answer is, it will get done very soon. And Charlie, the Highway Department is going to do it. We've already contracted with them."

Sid Bail: "What would you suggest would be the best way to advance some of those alternatives that you suggested. Like you said, like the folks want to close at 10:00 or-- "

Supervisor Janoski: "Well, we simply enact that and make it part of that situation where it is a recreational parking lot. Put up the signs, 10:00, and that it be enforced. Which means the handing out of summonses. We can, if there is not enough money to fence off the lot right away with the cyclone fence, probably use some obstructions such as telephone poles or the like to limit access to it. But these are things as far as the use of the parking lot, that we have to hear from you. Because as sure as Florence wants it closed off, there might be somebody who would like to use it, might want to park there and take a walk down on that little area of sand or launch a boat in the wee hours of the morning.

So that there's always this kind of disparity of opinion."

Sid Bail: "If the Town was going to divest itself of the property, would it have to divest itself of the entire parcel or-- "

Supervisor Janoski: "No. We could certainly break it off. I believe that there are at least two building lots there and I don't see the possibility that the Town will ever have a beach facility there. I believe that that possibility is long gone. So why should the Town maintain a parking lot there is a question that I've asked for many years. And I think at one point we did make an attempt to divest ourselves of it but the bid that we got on it was so ridiculously low that we couldn't even consider it."

Sid Bail: "Okay. Thank you very much."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, Sid."

Eileen Drower: "As you can see, we have (inaudible) the duck pond."

Supervisor Janoski: "Where's my shirt?"

Eileen Drower: "Right here. On behalf of the Wading River Civic Association, and over 250 residents of the community, both residents and business people who came out on Sunday, May 2nd, and showed their concern for the condition of the pond, all of the (inaudible) who gave the beautiful resolution and to date nothing has been done, but you were there, sir, and we would like to present you with your own-- duck pond."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Don't go away. Inasmuch as Helga has joined us, you came in a little late so I was waiting for the opportune time, let me just interrupt these proceedings to read to you a letter from the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation. And it is one that I am happy to have received. Usually I'd like to burn them.

This is addressed to Mrs. Helga S. Guthie.

Dear Mrs. Guthie:

We are pleased to present you with the enclosed Certificate of Recognition in light of your participation in the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation's Water Stewardship Program. Efforts such as yours help us to conserve and protect this valuable resource. Our Department has prepared a map that shows the state-wide location of adopted areas. The display will be exhibited at our central office in Albany and at the annual State Fair in Syracuse. Once again, thank you for taking such an active role to preserve and protect water resources in New York State.

Sincerely,

Ray E. Cowen P.E.
Regional Director

Here is a Certificate of Recognition from the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation presented to the Wading River Civic Association. This certificate is awarded in appreciation of your stewardship accomplishment. You have demonstrated that you care for our waters through activities to preserve and protect the water resources of New York State and to increase environmental awareness in your community.

Thank you for lending a helping hand by participating in the Division of Waters Take Credit Program."

Rolph Kestling: "My name is Rolph Kestling. I'm a resident of the forgotten east end of Wading River. I do a lot of walking around, my wife and I, and last night, to give an example, we were down on the Hulse Landing parking lot, between 7:00 and 7:30. We're usually down there two, three times a week. Why doesn't the police department enforce the parking permits? Last night when we were there, there were five vehicles there, two of them were just being loaded up with what I would call an extended family. I doubt very much that they are residents of Wading River or the Town of Riverhead because there's no parking permit on the bumper. None of the five vehicles on the parking lot had a parking permit. Now this happens quite often. The majority of the cars there do not have a parking permit. I have a parking permit. I never use it, but I got it because in case I may have to use it. The police department goes down, they drive down, they look around, and they come back. I don't know, maybe their pants are glued to the driver's seat, they can't get out of them. There's no reason that-- from my residence, that many times I see a police car come down Hulse Landing Road, make a left hand turn up North Wading River Road. What's the big deal, they go down five, 600 feet and check if the cars got parking permits? Easy enough.

I spoke to one of the residents just today. I don't know if he's in the audience or not. He didn't think he could make it, and he questioned the police officer. Why they don't give out the summonses. He told them, we ran out of summonses. Is it possible the police department runs out of summonses? I mean, after all, okay? But that parking lot is a mess. Now, I know that parking lot before it was a parking lot and what's going on there, the garbage strewn around, the cars parked there, the contractor that's been using it as a storage area, forget about it. You get a lot of taxes from our end of the Wading River, and I may add you get a lot of folks from our end of the area, too. Point taken? Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Jessie?"

Jessie Tomlinson: "Good evening. Mr. Janoski, members of the Board. Thank you for coming to Wading River. It gives me an opportunity which I don't have too frequently to say something before the Board. But before I ask a couple questions, if you would permit me, it's amazing how no matter how many years I go to a Board meeting, it's the same subject. Ten years ago, we talked about the parking lot. Ten years ago we talked about the pond, but now I'm talking about something that's maybe not 10 years old, but fairly old.

Mr. Creighton came to our Civic Association meeting several months ago and at the time we told him about some of the problems that had been ongoing. I know Joe was very familiar with some of them, and I would like to know the status of some of those problems that we presented to you.

First of all, was the restaurant down by the pond. We also brought up (inaudible), I guess you would call it parking lot collision shop of Dogwood Drive, and we also talked about the Wading River King Kullen shopping center. The shopping center as far as I'm concerned, is still not taken care of properly and Mr. Serota appeared before us about a month or so after you did, Mr. Creighton, and he more or less tried to convince everyone that there was no need for another shopping center because his was going to be a really great one. And he assured us that he had those two empty stores just about rented. Well, they still aren't. There's been no attempt to do any extra work with clean up during the summer season, which really should be. Even though people may be dumping their trash there, it's still their responsibility to clean it up. It's unfortunate that people do that, but if anybody dumps trash on my yard, I have to clean it up. I don't call someone else to do it.

As far as the Manino Collision Shop of Dogwood Drive and 25A, there are more and more old cars being dumped there, right in front, he's supposed to put them in the back, but they're still there. And, of course, I don't have to remind you about the ugliness of the old restaurant down by the pond.

So could you answer any questions about the status of those three in particular, and I had another one I wish to bring up if you don't mind. Mr. Creighton?"

Councilman Creighton: "Were you here the night a couple weeks after that when I came back and gave everybody a status report on that?"

Jessie Thomlinson: "Yes, I was."

Councilman Creighton: "And, at that time, all those locations were inspected by the code enforcement officer, citations were issued for the buildings, the vehicles in the lot, and it was my understanding that it was handled satisfactorily at that time. I have not heard from anybody since then that the situation has gone back to what it was."

Jessie Thomlinson: "Well, the fact that citations were issued really isn't the point. The point is, when is it going to be taken care of? And nothing has changed as far as I can see since you came the second time to tell us what you had done. Perhaps the code enforcement officer had not done his or her job. I don't know. But nothing has changed at all."

Councilman Creighton: "I wish you had called me at Town Hall and-- "

Jessie Thomlinson: "Well, I don't have to do that. I'm telling you right now."

Councilman Creighton: "I know you don't have to, but I can point out to you that it's a good idea so you can get good answers instead of putting on a performance here at the meeting."

Jessie Thomlinson: "I beg your pardon. I think you are the performance, Mr. Creighton, and I resent that remark. I lived in this town for 20 years and these problems have been here for probably ten. You came and said you were going to take care of them. I'm asking you a question as a taxpayer, have you done anything about it?"

Councilman Creighton: "And I came back and told you what I did."

Jessie Thomlinson: "Yes, but nothing has changed."

Councilman Creighton: "Now, let's ask the Town Attorney if she, unfortunately I'm sure she hasn't had a chance to update her information on this before this meeting, but perhaps she knows where some of these citations are with respect to Justice Court, which is where they'd go. They have to go to Court."

Jessie Thomlinson: "I know that."

Councilman Creighton: "And we have to enforce these and sometimes the Judges don't agree. They give them delays and that sort thing so perhaps Mrs. Moore can tell us where we stand on some of them."

Patricia Moore: "Unfortunately I don't have the specifics on each individual case and I'd be happy to give that information to you once I have spoken with Mr. Kuzinski. I can tell you generally of what the process is, which is we issue violation notice which is a notice to the owner to cure. If they don't cure within a set period of time, and it's usually no more than 10 days, we issue a violation and a summons, which means that they have to appear in Court and explain to the Court why it is that they are not complying with what we believe is the law. At that time, once it appears-- there is what's called-- it's all in the criminal context. You have to understand that the owner of the property is presumed innocent until proven guilty. Unfortunately with zoning cases, it's just like any other criminal case.

Once the individual is noticed, they come into Court, it's-- their first appearance is called an arraignment. At the arraignment they have the ability to plead either innocent or guilty. Presumably they go with the innocent and then we set it for trial. So it's not an immediate process. Unfortunately we would all like to be able to close him down immediately, but that's not the case with the criminal context-- the criminal court system. So, most likely if the time frame that's been explained here, we are most likely at the point where are to appear in Court. I have Court tomorrow and it's possible that it's on my calendar for tomorrow. I don't know. Or within the next week or so. At that point, knowing how you feel about it and the efforts that have been made, we can try to expedite it to the best of our abilities within the Criminal Court time frame. But, as I said, the owner of the property is involved in a criminal case, and they are granted all of the due process rights that you and I would have in a Criminal Court."

Jessie Thomlinson: "Mr. Menino is involved in a criminal case, is that what you are saying?"

Patricia Moore: "It's a-- the zoning violation is a criminal action. We are issuing a violation of the zoning code. So it's equivalent to a criminal case, just like any other criminal case. Okay?"

Jessie Thomlinson: "What about the restaurant? What's the status of the restaurant?"

Supervisor Janoski: "Who are you asking?"

Jessie Thomlinson: "Anybody."

Patricia Moore: "I know that a while ago, they were-- they had a building permit. If this is the same gentleman that had a building permit for the Swan and the Peach, is that the one you're talking about?"

Jessie Thomlinson: "Yes."

Patricia Moore: "Okay. They had made a building permit application after much aggravation on our part and following through in the Criminal Court case. They finally made a building permit application, they got all the approvals that were necessary to get a building permit. The building permit is in effect for 18 months. So as long as the applicant is proceeding within the building permit -- complying with the building permit plans, they have 18 months to complete the project. That's a standard time frame for a building permit."

Jessie Thomlinson: "Ms. Moore, with all due respect, I understand that. He hasn't done anything. That's why I'm bringing it up. It still looks the same as it did two months ago, three months ago."

Councilman Prusinowski: "He put windows in or something."

Jessie Thomlinson: "I beg your pardon?"

Councilman Prusinowski: "I think he put some windows in. That's about it."

Jessie Thomlinson: "It's all boarded up."

Councilman Prusinowski: "I know. I've been passing it."

Patricia Moore: "I'm sure we're going to go back there if-- again, I'll follow through tomorrow when I'm in the office and I'll check with Mr. Kuzinski to find out if we've contacted them and seen where he's planning to go with this construction, but I can tell you he's very slow and that's not an excuse but, unfortunately when you're dealing with a building permit, you know, we don't have a shorter time frame for a building permit."

Jessie Thomlinson: "I understand. I have another question. Several months ago, there was someone hired for the Building Department, a Mrs. Sharon Kloc, who is I guess a code enforcement officer. I'm not sure what the title is. But, anyway, she is a resident of Babylon according to what the newspaper says, and the question was raised as to whether or not she would become a resident of the Town, since the last time I looked, we do have a residency requirement. And my question is, has she become a resident of the Town?"

Supervisor Janoski: "She has a period of time to move into Town. She has agreed to. I really can't say that she has, but she has, as I said, agreed to move into the Town of Riverhead, and knows that she must become a Town resident. I also should say that she has proven to be an outstanding addition to the Building Department. She is a very capable woman who is not afraid to go out there and go after people like the Peach and the-- or whatever name that place is. I will, if you really want to know, check with her tomorrow as to her progress in relocating here. Because you are exactly right. There is a residency requirement."

Jessie Thomlinson: "Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Is there anyone who hasn't spoken who wishes to be recognized? George, you've spoken a number of times. Del."

Del Kercera: "My name is Del Kercera. I'm from Wading River. For the record and for what it's worth, I just want to say that I personally a day or two ago, saw a couple of gentlemen at the King Kullen shopping center doing clean up. Whether it was satisfactory clean up or not, I don't speak to that. But there were a couple of gentlemen. Obviously Mr. Serota contacted someone to do something. So people were doing that a day or two ago, I saw them. Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. The gentleman to the left there, who had his hand up. Yes, sir."

Councilman Creighton: "As a result of the visits that I had here that were referred to by Mrs. Thomlinson, the owner of that shopping center did come and spend an evening with the Civic Assoc. He was cited for violations as a result of that and various goals were established and there was debate over whether or not he would take away the trash cans because they attract too much garbage, or whether or not he should put them there because then people might use them, this is an old problem and it is persistent. But this is the first I heard that he didn't follow through on the agreements he made that night."

Supervisor Janoski: "Gordon, I'm sorry I didn't recognize you."

Gordon Danby: "Gordon Danby. Mr. Supervisor, members of the Board. Again, thank you for holding these meetings around the Town. That's a splendid idea. People who have frustrations should try a bigger Town. The Town of Brookhaven would be better off if they broke up into seven or eight towns (inaudible).

But, I wanted to ask really an area and I (inaudible) that this is under control. But the ponds, are mostly in Brookhaven, but sludge that comes in is mostly from Riverhead. And there was an attempt as you know when you drive down there, to build a barrier to collect that stuff. But unless one can really get a (inaudible) engineers, send them places that you can go in and clean out efficiently and economically on a periodic basis without it being a big expense and deal, this cycle is just going to repeat itself.

Now it's possible, of course, since much of that drainage area may well be built that the worst is behind us, but basically I just want to add emphasis to that and I want to finally thank you also for what you did at the creek because that would have been a rapidly deteriorating situation. And I wish you luck with your suit and maybe your state representatives can help to clarify that's a charade as you know between LIPA and LILCO. And I don't know what the hell LILCO-- LIPA is doing in the picture anyway. If they're supposed to take the plant apart, then they should disappear. But until that's clarified, I think you're just going to get jerked around and I personally think the state is at least as much to blame if not more. Thank you."

Councilman Prusinowski: "Gordon, the latest on that is the-- we're waiting for Mr. Catacasenous has written Assemblyman Sawicki and us and they're conducting an internal investigation on the documentation that we were able to uncover with the help of the Wading River Civic Association, members of the Board, and we passed some startling documentation over to them and the Chairman wrote back a very nice three line letter that says he is conducting an internal investigation. We wrote to him recently-- I sent him a letter recently and the investigation should be according to them wrapped up in about 30 days. They will then give us their determination and what they perceive is their liability, if any, to maintain the dredging, to pay us, and things like that. And at that point, we'll have to discuss with the Board other options to try to reclaim what I think is proper reimbursement to the Town taxpayers."

Eileen Drower: "Eileen Drower, Wading River. With reference to the restaurant, across from our dear duck pond, I'd like to know how many times the Town issued a building permit. John Lombardi, years back, he's been gone how long now, was appalled when the Town Board issued another building permit at that point in time. Mr. (inaudible) has been goofing off. That restaurant has been a disgrace, I don't know, eight, ten years. Does anybody know? I lost track. I drive past it every day, just about, and it has been a disgrace for year upon year upon year. And it's my understanding that the Town keeps reissuing this so called 18 month building permit. Now you've got to put a stop to it. Make the man either do it, sell it, or, in fact, I guess it was (inaudible) you were going to, what's the term-- demolish. You know, it's a disgrace to our Town, it really is and we're sick and tired of looking at it. So I would appreciate it if you would look into it and see how long he has been applying for permits."

Supervisor Janoski: "Some day, Eileen, when we have a lot of time. I would like you to sit and listen to the saga of him."

Eileen Drower: "I'm somewhat familiar with it."

Supervisor Janoski: "But I think we're only on the second building permit."

Eileen Drower: "Yeah, I don't know. But I know when John Lombardi was alive it had to be a year or so before he died, the Town Board issued a building permit at that point in time. He was hoping it would only be for six months."

Supervisor Janoski: "The Town Board does not issue building permits."

Eileen Drower: "Pardon?"

Supervisor Janoski: "The Town Board doesn't issue building permits."

Eileen Drower: "True. But he has really disgraced this Town."

Supervisor Janoski: "Believe me, I can't say anything because I'd probably get sued."

Eileen Drower: "All right. Just look into it please."

Supervisor Janoski: "There's a hand in the back there."

Councilman Stark: "Joe Sikora again. He's already spoken."

Supervisor Janoski: "I know. What are you going to do? We'll get you next."

Joseph Sikora: "My name is Joseph Sikora. I'm from Riverhead. I would like to ask Miss Pat Moore a question. Was the Raceway law changed?"

Patricia Moore: "I didn't hear you, I'm sorry."

Joseph Sikora: "Was the Raceway law changed?"

Patricia Moore: "Not recently."

Joseph Sikora: "I would like to know why and this is the fourth Sunday now, they start at 11:00 and they go until 9:00 at night. I thought the law read when they start at 11:00, they're supposed to end at 5:00."

Patricia Moore: "I'll check. I don't remember. But I will check. While you are sitting down, I'll check."

Joseph Sikora: "I would like to know why they're going to 9:00."

Supervisor Janoski: "Well, I don't know that she can answer that question, Joe-- "

Joseph Sikora: "She said the law wasn't changed."

Patricia Moore: "No, no. It says what it says. I think if there is a rain delay, there's a time lag, but I don't think it's-- "

Joseph Sikora: "There's no rain this time."

Supervisor Janoski: "Joe, can we give you your answer a little later so we can hear some others?"

Joseph Sikora: "Yes."

Supervisor Janoski: "Okay. The young lady, yes?"

Patricia Bailey: "My name is Patricia Bailey. I'm from Reeves Park. This is the first occasion I've been at a meeting like this and under Correspondence, I'm interested as is a number of the people that are with me, about the concern of the residents about the criminal behavior at Reeves Beach. I don't know whether this is something under Correspondence that you reach at a certain later time this evening, or how would we talk about this?"

Supervisor Janoski: "No. It was read out for the Correspondence. The gentleman delivered-- hand delivered the letter and the signatures yesterday, I believe, one to me, I believe, the Town Clerk, and I have a feeling the police department got one. So we got it yesterday and we are aware of some of the things that you mentioned in the letter. The police department is as is pointed out, engaged in problems all over. We are very deeply disturbed about the destruction of that gazebo. It is our hope to replace it."

Councilman Stark: "Ten days, two weeks, it will be in."

Supervisor Janoski: "Jimmy is telling me that in 10 days, two weeks, it will be replaced. It is also our hope to gain restitution from the individuals who vandalized and destroyed it."

Drug sales are another thing and the Town is engaged in investigations of that sort all the time. I would offer because we do have a Police Advisory Committee, that you select a representative number of the people from Reeves Park to come down and visit with the Police Advisory Committee so that we might discuss these particular problems and perhaps come up with some ideas as to what can be done.

We have been visited by people from other streets and the Department, within its abilities, does try to address, they're down on Railroad Avenue, Court Street, right now addressing a particular problem and we'll be happy to talk with you and some of your neighbors. Now, don't bring down 20 people because we just can't do that kind of thing. But maybe five, six, seven people who want to represent the community who can discuss some of the problems that exist there, and we could come up with some way of trying to address them."

Patricia Bailey: "And that would include problems in addition to the gazebo, because there are other severe vandalism problems."

Supervisor Janoski: "Oh sure. Whatever. Yes. There's a great deal of mindless destruction that takes place throughout the Town and why it is done, is beyond me, and it's unfortunate that I have to say that it is our own children very often that commits the vandalism. But we'd be happy to sit down and perhaps talk about a neighborhood watch program and some of the other things that we do as well as putting our own personnel in there. I personally would not be adverse to putting in a TV monitoring system which I understand is available. It's a-- some sort of a modular kind of thing that can be moved from place to place. It is unfortunate that we have to take steps like this, but those are the kinds of things that we can do. So do call the office and we will advise you as to when the next Police Advisory Committee is and yourself and some of your neighbors can come down and we can discuss it."

Patricia Bailey: "Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "You're very welcome. Is that your hand, Steve? Okay."

Steve Haizlip: "Steve Haizlip of Calverton. I would like to make one comment as to what Mr. Kasperovich said about these State people. They come out and they look at roads, streets, and so forth. But they fail to do one thing, they don't tell you. I mean, if they are going to be interested in the Town and complaints from the Town, then I think they have to talk to the Town Supervisor and say we've got letters on this and so forth, and notify you. But the County and the State, they all have the same attitude. They don't tell you nothing. All right."

Now, I want to get to the problems that I want to talk about. Fourteen years ago when you took office, you said that you could talk about any subject, anything, any problems, and so forth. Now, unless you rescind it tonight, here's my problem. At the last meeting, I mentioned to you that I got in contact with Mr. Gaffney about Route 58, at the Highway Barn. I got in touch with him again. It is still quiet on the western front, he's in the west, so it's still quiet. And I suppose it's still quiet on the eastern end."

Supervisor Janoski: "Steve, you spoke to Mr. Gaffney, himself?"

Steve Haizlip: "What's that?"

Supervisor Janoski: "You spoke to Mr. Gaffney?"

Steve Haizlip: "I wrote to Mr. Gaffney, himself."

Councilman Stark: "He wrote to him."

Supervisor Janoski: "Wrote to him. Okay, I'm sorry. Because I can't get to talk with him myself and I was just going to-- "

Steve Haizlip: "Well, that's why I say I suppose it's quiet on the eastern end. A year ago, on July the 5th, my wife, Anne was attacked by a mugger. She ended up going to the hospital, so did the boss, the owner of the place. Now, I've heard about this Victims Crime Bureau, so I put in for it. So in the meantime, Central Suffolk Hospital was bugging me to no end and I said, you're going to hold tight. The Crime Victim Bureau of the State is going to work and you'll wait for it. So in the meantime, while they were bugging me so, I got a hold of Mr. Sawicki's office and his staff there accelerated it and prompted it to go forward. So now the reason I'm bringing that up, in the meantime my wife got $160 for her glasses that was broken by the mugger from the boss. Now since I had gotten a check for it from the Crime Victim Bureau, being an honest citizen I turned it back in. But nobody ever told me that they got it. So I wrote to Mr. Cuomo a nice letter and he said, yes, I got it. And I guess one of his (inaudible) intercepted it and felt that Steve was an outcast, he didn't deserve an answer. So I haven't heard nothing about it. I guess that's what honest citizens get from the State.

Now, if (inaudible) in the Long Island Lighting System. Now I'm saying this as it happens because it's the truth. The Town Board is not taking any responsibility for what I'm saying. I appreciate the fact that the Town Board allowed the citizenry of its Town to have an outlet to speak and not to be on television neither. But I mean it helps, you know, because we can look at that. Now, Suzy Halpin of Long Island Lighting, as my father told me when I was growing up, put faith and trust in everyone until you find out otherwise. Well, she is one that I have found out otherwise. Don't put no faith and trust in her. Not, I mean, myself.

My final, last problem here. I had mentioned that I was having a little problem with Mr. Turner over at Central Suffolk Hospital. Traveler's Insurance, as I had told you, makes knowledge I've been saying that the health provider accepts the approved amount of Medicare as total charge. I have asked him a direct question: Do you accept the approved amount of Medicare as the total charge? Well, what that man is doing, he is twisting and phrasing words like the Air Force 0020A to suit his own intermediate needs. Thank you very much, Joe."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, Steve. George? After George speaks, we are going to take a well deserved recess."

George Schmelzer: (inaudible)

Councilman Stark: "Thank you, George."

Supervisor Janoski: "George, was this trip really necessary?"

George Schmelzer: "When you mentioned before (inaudible). You mentioned the lady should have sued the State about that accident, how about the Town joining in with the lady?"

Supervisor Janoski: "We are not an injured party."

George Schmelzer: "Huh?"

Supervisor Janoski: "We are not an injured party."

George Schmelzer: "Well (inaudible) injured party. That's it. I think that's stretching it a bit. (inaudible)"

Supervisor Janoski: "I'm sorry, George."

George Schmelzer: "Okay." (inaudible)

Supervisor Janoski: "I was just saying that everytime you give one of your one-liners, we should have a little drum roll."

George Schmelzer: "Sometimes the needs and opinions and desires of Wading River are different from the rest of the Town. Maybe the Wading River people should form their own incorporated village, including Shoreham."

Supervisor Janoski: "And make you the first mayor."

George Schmelzer: (inaudible)

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, George."

George Schmelzer: "Huh?"

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, George."

George Schmelzer: "You wouldn't want that? Maybe they should do it. Riverhead is the only Town in the County that has their own incorporated village."

Supervisor Janoski: "That's right and that's why we're so lucky. Thank you, George. I thought you were against more government, more taxes."

George Schmelzer: "I was surprised last week when (inaudible)."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, George. I have no deal. Do you have a deal?"

George Schmelzer: "No, I'm worried because (inaudible)."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, George."

Councilman Stark: "George, there's a young lady-- "

George Schmelzer: "I also read in the paper about some (inaudible) ordinances getting absolute control and according to Frank Creighton, said we should have absolute control. Didn't you say that?"

Councilman Creighton: "I said the law's there. If we want it we can do it, if we have the political will."

George Schmelzer: "I had (inaudible)."

Councilman Creighton: "I wasn't advocating more signs or more control."

George Schmelzer: "Well, it sounded like that."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, George. This young lady would like to use the microphone."

Ruth Matthews: "I am Ruth Matthews from Wading River. And I want to add something to what (inaudible) said. About the duck pond and the water and the sludge that comes into that. And I think it's about time we had catch basins along the road, (inaudible), Main Road, Manor Road, and there are about three roads that empty into those two ponds. I would like the Board to consider catch basins."

Supervisor Janoski: "Well, the individual who would be most concerned with that is unfortunately not here today, this evening. But we will communicate to the Highway Superintendent the concept of putting in catch basins to catch runoff as it heads down towards the pond."

Ruth Matthews: "I think that's very important and I will tell you another thing. Those two ponds empty into-- come under the road and empty into the larger Mill Pond and mud can be seen coming into that pond which then goes onto the meadow. So there's a great of contamination. And that has a lot to do with the environmental thing."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thanks."

Ruth Matthews: "Thank you very much."

Supervisor Janoski: "This meeting is recessed until 15 minutes past 9. Thank you George."

Recess.

Supervisor Janoski: "We are going to recall the meeting to order and take up the Resolutions."

Barbara Grattan: "No. It will be."

Councilwoman Gilliam: "Can someone elaborate as to what that language will be?"

Supervisor Janoski: "Yes. There appears to be confusion on the part of the residents in the Town as to their ability to take to the landfill themselves at no cost yard waste, branches, clippings, grass clippings, leaves, that kind of thing. Many people believe that they can no longer bring that type of waste to the Town landfill. So it appears that it would be a good idea to make an effort to inform the public as part of our education program, that they are able to bring yard waste to the landfill at no cost from Monday through Friday from 7:00 until 4:00. And, of course, if there's a holiday, it's open on Saturday. There just is an absence of that realization on the part of many people in the Town. This, of course, does not include commercial landscapers. They cannot bring yard waste to the landfill free of charge."
