Supervisor Janoski: "Let the record show that the hour of 7:12 p.m. has arrived. The Town Clerk will please read the Notice of Public Hearing."

Barbara Grattan: "I have affidavits of publishing and posting of a Public Hearing to be held at Riverhead Town Hall at 7:10 p.m. on Tuesday, September 7, 1993, to hear all interested persons who wish to be heard regarding the consideration of an amendment to Chapter 101-Vehicles and Traffic at Section 101-16 of the Riverhead Town Code-Parking Fields."

Patricia Moore: "Thank you. We're amending our Section on parking fields that will add: No person shall park a vehicle in any of the parking fields owned and/or maintained by Central Suffolk Hospital except within designated stalls marked on the surface of the lot."

Councilman Prusinowski: "Also the second one, too, Standing and Stopping."

Patricia Moore: "They are all dealing with Central Suffolk Hospital, various areas of the hospital parking field."

Supervisor Janoski: "We are going to have the two Public Hearings scheduled for 7:10 p.m. run concurrently-- three."

Barbara Grattan: "I have affidavits of publishing and posting of a Public Hearing to be held at Riverhead Town Hall at 7:10 p.m. on Tuesday, September 7, 1993, to hear all interested persons who wish to be heard regarding the consideration of an amendment to Chapter 101 Vehicles and Traffic at Section 101 Vehicles and Traffic Section 101-10.1 of the Riverhead Town code, Parking, Standing and Stopping Prohibited."

The third affidavit is also for 7:10 p.m. on Tuesday, September 7, 1993, to hear all interested persons who wish to be heard regarding the consideration of an amendment to Chapter 101 Vehicles and Traffic at Section 101-3 of the Riverhead Town code, which is Stop and Yield Intersection, Railroad Crossings."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Is there anyone who wishes to address the Town Board on the proposals contained in the amendments to Chapter 101? Steve?"

Steve Haizlip: "Steve Haizlip of Calverton. This Public Hearing reminds me of the time when Waldbaums and King Kullen I guess it was, was trying to get a law adapted that you couldn't run off with a shopping (inaudible). There's already laws adopted that you can't do that. Now in this particular case, the Town doesn't own these fields. They're owned by the hospital and maintained by the hospital. Why does the hospital want you to control their traffic in and out of their parking fields? I think that's a good question."

Supervisor Janoski: "It is. Private parking lots can be put under the jurisdiction of the Town of Riverhead. For example, when you go to your favorite supermarket, you will see handicap parking spaces and you will see fire zones. Now those cannot be enforced unless the owner of that parking lot turns it over to the jurisdiction of the town so that, in fact, the police department can enforce the laws. And that is what is being done here."

Steve Haizlip: "Question answered."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Is there anyone else who wishes to address the Town Board on the proposals? George?"

George Schmelzer: "My question is: Explain (inaudible) the numbers: 101- so and so, mean nothing."

Patricia Moore: "Do you want me to read them?"

George Schmelzer: "I wonder what it is (inaudible) numbers."

Patricia Moore: "I will be happy to read every section of it for you. The 101-10.1 is Central Suffolk Hospital, both sides along the roadway on the north side of the property line from its beginning at Roanoke Avenue easterly for a distance of 460 feet. Got that? Okay."

Also, in Central Suffolk Hospital, both sides along both curbs of the roadway immediately adjacent to the east side of the building, from the north property line southerly to Old Country Road, County Road 58.

Another portion of Central Suffolk Hospital on the east side along the east curb line immediately adjacent to the main entrance which faces Roanoke Avenue.

Another portion of Central Suffolk Hospital both sides along both curb lines of the drive that leads from the north property line southerly to the emergency ambulance entrance and then finally, all sides that are marked as fire zones. Okay?"

George Schmelzer: "Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, Patricia. Is there anyone else present wishing to address the Town Board on these proposals? Mr. Bill."

William Kasperovich: "Mr. Bill from Wading River. Glad to after 12 years you got to know that my name is not George. Designated stalls marked on the surface of the lot. When it snows, when it's raining to where there is a surface coverage of water that hasn't run off, to mention two items that you can't see what is on the surface of the road when you go to park your car. You got a pretty good idea where to park by the other cars, but if there are no cars you have lots of space.

Apparently sufficient consideration hasn't been made, a study hasn't been made as to what is needed here or certainly you wouldn't propose any such thing. So over the last few years we've had many of these (inaudible) changes, stop and yield, railroad crossings, and yet we can't affect pedestrian crossing over Main Street. Now, this may mean that we're looking in the wrong direction. The control of traffic, you can't say anything because you would be criticizing the police department. But I would say that many of the town vehicles don't drive around the township like they were using a township car and be setting an example of how things should be run.

I don't know what you people are trying to accomplish here, three Public Hearings, Stop and Yield, and yet (inaudible) try and find out how many citations were issued on a particular point. The police department can't tell you because they never had a computer with which to accumulate this information.

The same thing in many of these other vehicular enforcement requirements. I don't think the township is going about it in the best interests of the people that live here. So I don't know what to say. All I know is that when you put it down on the surface there are many conditions throughout the year that you can't see what's on the surface. And this defeats the entire purpose of designating stalls. Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, Bill. Is there anyone else present wishing to address the Town Board on the matter of these proposals? That being the case, and without objection, I declare the Hearings to be closed."

P U B L I C H E A R I N G S C L O S E D : 7:21 P.M.

P U B L I C H E A R I N G O P E N E D : 7:22 P.M.

Supervisor Janoski: "Let the record show that the hour of 7:22

P.M. has arrived. The Town Clerk will please read the Notice of Public Hearing."

Barbara Grattan: "I have affidavits of publishing and posting of a Public Hearing to be held at Riverhead Town Hall at 7:15 P.M., on Tuesday, September 7, 1993, to hear all interested persons who wish to be heard regarding the Draft Urban Renewal Plan for the Riverhead Central Business District providing for the redevelopment of under-utilized property and describes an overall approval for the economic development of the business district."

Supervisor Janoski: "Andrea."

Andrea Lohneiss: "Several months ago, the Town Board authorized the preparation of an Urban Renewal Plan."

Councilman Stark: "Andrea, give your name."

Andrea Lohneiss: "Andrea Lohneiss, Community Development Director. To encompass an area of downtown Riverhead within the Hamlet, bounded by Peconic Avenue to the west, First Street to the north, Peconic River to the south, and McDermott Avenue to the east, the goal of the Town Board was to undertake certain redevelopment activities pursuant to Article 15 and 15A of the General Municipal Law, including most specifically disposition of the Rimland Building which the Town has been proceeding to acquire."

The intent of the Urban Renewal process is to develop a comprehensive plan to revitalization of a specific target area, while maximizing the rights and powers provided by the authorizing legislation. It requires development of a strategy involving planning, zoning, code enforcement, code revision, development and redevelopment of a community based on private and public sector (inaudible). The specific goals and objections of this plan include physical improvement, stimulation of economic development, promotion of tourist and related development, improvement and development of public facilities needed to support proposed (inaudible), enhanced utilization of existing cultural and historic resources, and upgrading of marginal land uses.

The subject urban renewal area is (inaudible) by public water and sewer, a parking district, a lighting district, and a business improvement district. This district was created in 1991 to restore and promote business activity by providing new and enhanced services within the district. Consequently the creation of one or more urban renewal areas within the business improvement district is consistent with the legislative goals and objections of both business improvement district and urban renewal. The efforts of one compliment the other.

Pursuant to the law, the Town Board first referred the draft to the Riverhead Planning Board which held a Public Hearing on May 20th. Subsequently, the Riverhead Planning Board resolved on July 1st to recommend approval of the plan with certain modifications, specifically extension of the easternmost boundary of the urban renewal area from McDermott Avenue east to include the Riverhead Building Supply, Kentucky Fried Chicken, and the Peconic Yacht Basin property, since in the meantime we have received the special permit application for the proposed aquarium on Riverhead Building Supply property.

Secondly, a statement was made for the record of the need for a separate and distinct urban renewal plan addressing the West Main Street corridor and the land use therein.

Third, that the Town Board consider the financial implications of any residential relocation which could potentially occur from the (inaudible) of pre-existing non-conforming multi family uses.

Fourth, that mitigation measures to address a (inaudible) impact of the proposed aquarium on parking and then its traffic pattern have (inaudible) in the project's Environmental Impact Statement be incorporated into the final draft.

And, fifth, that the phase two urban renewal plan addressing Railroad Avenue be initiated upon adoption of the phase one plan.

Subsequent to tonight's Public Hearing, the Town Board may either approve by majority vote the plan with modifications recommended by the Planning Board or approve by a majority vote plus one, the plan without the modifications recommended by the Planning Board. Any recommendations made at the Public Hearing this evening may also be incorporated into the plan.

Rick is going to talk some about the existing conditions and future land uses proposed in the plan."

Rick Hanley: "Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. Rick Hanley, Planning Director, Town of Riverhead. Though the urban renewal area is a target area (inaudible) of the town of Riverhead, the urban renewal plan that we envision here must conform to General Municipal Law, the town law in terms of a comprehensive master plan. We started with a statement of goals which Andrea has already described to you and subsequent to that, we began to do a parcel by parcel inventory of land uses within the described area. Generally speaking, those uses are commercial and residential with retail trade being predominant.

In addition, there exists significant public or quasi-public land uses which are supportive of the viability of the private property that exists within the planning area. The inventory further identified uses which we consider to be either underutilized, marginal, or are pre-existing and do not conform to the zoning map of the town of Riverhead.

After we concluded that inventory we integrated that with the goals and objectives of both this urban renewal plan which were stated from the outset, as well as the master plan of the town of Riverhead which was completed in 1973. That resulted in a future land use plan where more simply stated those activities or projects that might occur after the adoption of this plan.

Specifically those activities include the following as far as recommendations in this plan: The town acquisition of certain private properties in order to increase the capacity of the Riverhead parking district, support destination uses and redevelopment of existing cultural resources. Specifically, those cultural resources include the Suffolk (inaudible) Hall. The improvement of existing parking district property to support tourist destination land uses, specifically, there's potential for the construction of a parking structure or other means to be operated by the district.

Three, a redevelopment of private properties in order to achieve the general goal of tourist related economic development and cultural development. Specifically, Suffolk Theater again, Music Hall, the Rimland Building, which is presently owned by the town of Riverhead, and the Riverhead Building Supply property, which is located on the River.

The elimination of pre-existing, non-conforming uses within the area through Town Board action. Specifically, we're referring to some multi-family boarding house uses which do not conform to the zoning ordinance of the town.

The acquisition of the Northville properties on East Main Street in order to make those improvements necessary that are use of cultural facilities. The encouragement of new commercial uses which are more closer related to the Peconic River resource and the existing tourist economy. The use of appropriate public lands for river related tourist enterprise and maritime cultural facilities, and lastly, given the vacancy rate of the second and third story space within the Riverhead downtown, we're suggesting a new use which is more viable economically, and the recommendation is for that space to be used residentially for artist residence, specifically studio or gallery.

Those are the highlighted recommendations of the urban renewal plan. The board up front shows each property within the urban renewal area and the land uses that exist upon those properties. Anyone who would like to inspect that further, they are welcome to later. Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Is there anyone present wishing to address the Town Board in this matter? Mr. Schmelzer."

George Schmelzer: "Hello. I guess this thing works. I can't figure who is non-conforming. I think the town and Planning Department is non-conforming. They don't conform to the land itself. The stuff about culture and artists, want a bunch of artists like they have in East Hampton out here? Greenwich Village or something? You talk about culture. What kind of culture? I don't expect any answer. Of course, it keeps the bureaucrats in jobs, (inaudible) problems for everybody that weren't there before. Why don't you conform to the ownership of the land itself instead of trying to force everybody else to do some screwball idea that you come up with? Really. What are you trying to accomplish? What have you ever accomplished with this kind of nonsense? No answer. I didn't expect an answer. Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, George."

George Schmelzer: "You're very welcome."

Supervisor Janoski: "Is there anyone else present wishing to address the Town Board in this matter? Well, thank you, Bob."

Bobby Goodale: "Bobby Goodale, Chamber of Commerce. I'd like to support the application or whatever the proper term is for the urban renewal district. We believe over these years, in the past and forward, this Town Board is going to be presented with a number of occasions when it is going to do what I think is going to happen. With our help, with your help we're going to redo downtown Riverhead and part of it, this is just one aspect of it, but it's a needed aspect of it. We're going to do it and this is part of it. And the general profile that's laid out for downtown is what we expect to be successful (inaudible) and, you know, give or take one thing or another, the general thrust of it is what we expect to be successful in downtown.

We urge the town to do what it has to do to further this process along and in that regard, we would urge you to further this process along by approving this plan so that we can move forward and make downtown Riverhead what it's going to be, I'm sure of it, a much more successful place than it's been in our lifetime. And there's an opportunity here and this is part of the puzzle to make this opportunity a reality. Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Are any other members of the (inaudible) going to speak tonight? No. Is there anyone else wishing to address the Board in the matter of the proposed urban renewal plan? Way in the back."

Ted Stagg: "Ted Stagg from Riverhead. I noticed over the past five, ten years perhaps, the town and the men and women who own the businesses downtown have done a terrific job with making the fronts of their stores not only pleasing to look at but also easy to get into and out of. Now, can we work on the backs? After all, we do have a couple of businesses that are already drawing people to the riverfront and many of those people are coming from out of town, first time ever in Riverhead. They come off the boat, they look at the backs of the stores downtown, they don't know which is which. They know Swezeys, but that's about it. And even some of the other ones that they might know, how do they get into the stores and out of them? They go around the front and I think that it's about time we started working on the backs the same way we worked on the fronts.

And, as long as I'm up here, how about I've noticed that in the past that the business owners have also between Thanksgiving and Christmas, have kept their stores open until 8:00 or 9:00 at night, five or six nights a week. If they can do that one month out of the year, why can't they do that the other 11? People shop from 5:00 until 9:00 p.m., 12 months a year. Not just one."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, Ted. Joe Fisher would agree with you. Is there anyone else present wishing to address the Board on the matter of the urban renewal plan? That being the case, and without objection, I declare the Hearing to be closed. Oh, I'm sorry, I didn't see you."

Unidentified and inaudible

Supervisor Janoski: "Not yet. Okay, we closed that Hearing."

P U B L I C H E A R I N G C L O S E D : 7:36 P.M.

Supervisor Janoski: "We have a little business to take care of before we get into comment from the public. If the people who are part of the Labor/Management Committee would come forward and join the Town Board and I in the well, we have a presentation to make.

Several years ago, a Labor/Management group was formed and one of the ideas that came from that group was that we should recognize employees of the town who are dedicated and doing an extraordinary great job in the performance of their duties. I am pleased to recognize the individual tonight who has been selected as Employee of the Quarter, but I would like to point out that we have besides the members of the Board, the members of the Labor/Management Committee: Madeline Saguski (phonetic) who is the Town Assessor, and Jack Hansen who is the Financial Administrator, Frances (inaudible) who works down there in the Building Department.

I'm sorry, Harriet is the Town Board member.

I would also like to point out that (inaudible) a visit from an old friend, Monique Gablenz who used to be Deputy Supervisor around here because as I know she was a supporter of this selection of this evening. So if I may read this Proclamation:

WHEREAS, the Town of Riverhead wishes to recognize the outstanding performance of its employees; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Richard Bokinz, an employee of the Town Riverhead Sewer and Scavenger Waste District was recommended for this achievement award by the Department Head, Michael Reichel, for his years of dedicated service and loyalty to the Town of Riverhead; and

WHEREAS, it is the unanimous decision of the Town of Riverhead Labor/Management Committee that Richard Bokinz be awarded the Employee of the Quarter of the third quarter of 1993.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Riverhead Town Board does wish to recognize the devotion of this individual; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that I, Joseph F. Janoski, Supervisor for the Town of Riverhead, do hereby proclaim Tuesday, September 7, 1993, Richard Bokinz Day.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Town of Riverhead to be affixed this 7th day of September in the year of Our Lord, nineteen hundred and ninety three."

Supervisor Janoski: "I will recognize Madeline first."

Madeline: "Dinner for two."

Supervisor Janoski: "Dinner for two at which restaurant? And Frances?"

Richard Bokinz: "Thanks a lot."

Supervisor Janoski: "Before we recognize you, the employees of the Sewer Scavenge Waste operation, would you stand up and-- I'm so happy to see you here to support-- ."

Richard Bokinz: "I would just like to say thanks to everybody who made this award available to me. I'd like to thank the Labor/Management group and, of course, I'd like to thank my boss, Michael, and mother hen, Terry, I'd like to thank. And everybody I work with, especially the road crew, that's the guys I work with every day. Thanks a lot everybody."

Supervisor Janoski: "The room has been cleared of those who are leaving and I will open the meeting to anyone who has any comment on any matter. Inasmuch as you had indicated that you would like to-- ."

Edrie Blackwelder: "Hello. My name is Eldrie Blackwelder and I'm a new resident of Riverhead for the past three months and I want to compliment the Town Board on the urban renewal for what they're doing to revitalize the town. I'm here because of a very strange topic, but not specifically the topic itself. It's regarding the petitions you received (inaudible). I'm here because I received phone calls about a week and a half ago from a very passionate group asking me to support them in their petitioning to stop the mule (inaudible). When I called the town, I was told that the town was actively seeking an injunction to stop this particular event and the town was very passionate in protecting the abuse of animals.

But what bothered me about the people that were calling me is that what they were saying didn't quite make sense. No one could tell me specifics about the event. Did any of you, by the way, go to the Peconic Fair?"

Councilwoman Gilliam: "I did not go inside, I went by."

Edrie Blackwelder: "Okay. I went there. I decided to go two days before the Fair because my own rule is that you do your homework before you protest something. I did my homework and found out that there was no abuse of the animals in question, that they were extremely well cared for, that the acts were not coerced. As a matter of fact, if anyone on the Town Board would like to see, I will make you copies of the tape that I made of the event.

The reason that I'm here is not to say you should dive mules. You can't do anything to a mule a mule does not want to do. They don't do anything they don't want to do. But what I'm concerned about is, again, the passion without reason. I was told by Susan Hoffnaugle, the wife of Norbert Hoffnaugle, who applied for the permit, that they were sending petitions in (inaudible) so it would appear to come from many different sources. I was told by your secretary, Mr. Janoski, that you had multiple pages of people protesting which my name was originally was on and I called to ask to have it taken off that protest. I was also told by Susan Hoffnaugle that she was calling, using multiple people's names, which to me sounds a little disturbing. I met the people that have the acts, I called them back and said please come and see this, please come and see for yourself. There are enough reasons to exert pressure and compassion when it's needed, but not when it's not needed. Mr. Hoffnaugle met (inaudible) Peconic Fair, saw the acts, said himself he felt better, he felt the animals were not coerced or abused. However, he felt that animal acts were really unnatural. That perhaps euthanasia was a better choice to having monkeys ride horses. I ride horses. I don't get a banana and three meals and I certainly would rather have a banana and free lodging than being put to death.

I was disturbed by the (inaudible) that was presented to the Town Board. I am here to request that the town when receiving impassioned pleas that are based on innuendo and distortion, come and check, come and look. Come and listen to the other side. Look for truth and reason because when you only get one side from a very adamant active group that are intent in presenting a distorted view. Again, I was told by (inaudible) who started this that the mules were put in slings, hoisted up by cranes, and cattle prodded off the platforms. And she told me this with utmost seriousness. Mules are released. They walk up with no assistance. They look down, and they dive as you shall see by this tape.

Again, I'm not saying you should dive mules. I'm here because I feel the town of Riverhead missed an opportunity to help bring a positive image to this town. There were people from Brentwood, Garden City, from all over the Island that I talked to that came to the Fair. With the Town's support, private citizens who make an effort to do something to improve this town, we can enhance the image of it. We can make this town a place that people come to see something that's exciting. To see something that's new, to see something that's different. And in the meantime, the businesses get the benefit of people who stop to buy gas, they stop to buy food, it's a commercial enhancement to the town.

So if you get a call from very impassioned people again, may I please ask of the Town that someone from your office go and see for yourselves, talk to the people who are actually doing this. And in the event it's something that's positive for the town, support it actively be behind it. And would anyone like a copy of the tape? I'll bring it by tomorrow morning. By the way, the pigs were not cattle prodded. They raced for Oreo cookies. Nobody ever touches them. It was totally misrepresented to both me and to the town, which is the reason I took the time to come here. Perhaps the next time you hear from a group, especially this particular group, you might want to question the validity of what they're saying. Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Yes, sir."

Norbert Hoffnaugle: "My name is Norbert Hoffnaugle. I've been mentioned here before, and I'm Vice-President of Long Island Animal Advocate. Just one thing I want to get straight before we start. My wife's name is not Susan, it's Karen, so if somebody is talking about (inaudible) and we don't know what other points you might have been wrong also.

It's certainly important to get animal-- in touch with animals and to learn about (inaudible). But this was (inaudible) as natural as possible, and not an unnatural acts like diving mules, monkeys racing on horses or racing pigs. The question's not what you see is that they race for only a cookie. The question you have to ask and this is something neither we nor Mrs. Blackwelder knows, how do we initially make pigs race for a cookie, or how do you initially get the mule to dive from a board.

Attractions like these are simply an unnecessary form of entertainment and we saw a picture of animals (inaudible), in the minds of our children to see that, and it does nothing but (inaudible) to the suffering of animals. I simply think that acts like these have to be reviewed more carefully in the future before you get any permit and I'm very glad that the town was very supportive to our application on the permit and give us a chance to take a look ourselves and make people aware of it.

Talking about petitions, we have in the three hours that we were out there demonstrating on Saturday, approximately 100 people went in the Fair and out of the 100, we got 30 people coming out and say, I don't want to see this again. That's the list we have here. (inaudible) Thanks a lot."

Supervisor Janoski: "You don't want to make that part of the record?"

Norbert Hoffnaugle: "Yes, sure."

Supervisor Janoski: "Would you give it to the Clerk, please?"

Barbara Grattan: "Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you. Is there anyone else present wishing to address the Board? Steve?"

Steve Haizlip: "Steve Haizlip of Calverton. One of the things that I see in here from Southold town, that Local Law No. 18 in relation to yard sales. I think it was a couple of years ago that I had mentioned to this Town Board, that one of our former Chief Justice of the United States that our rights are being nibbled away and taken away a little at a time. And this is an example of one of them. What do they think they can accomplish by having-- require people to get a permit for a yard sale? Is the police department going to come up there and control traffic or is it just, I need a fee of $5.00? I think that's about all it boils down to.

Now, in reading the News Review, I would be derelict of my civic duty of this town if I didn't bring out what I seen and the way I read it in the News Review of Judge Werner's decisions and comments about our landfill. Now, I thought I understood the justice system pretty good. But maybe I don't after I read what she had to say. Now, if you on December the 18th, or prior to a couple of days, but in 1990, got permission through the courts to leave the dump or the landfill open and it was granted-- and relief granted by the court, then you go to the next process of court and the next judicial branch of court that you need. Now, in rendering her decision, she said that the town has been in blatant violation of the law. Now, how do you be in blatant violation of the law if the courts along the way have given you relief? Or a fancy word (inaudible) or whatever you want to call it, permission to operate. You're not in violation of no law.

Now, the next step that I read there was from her decision there was 90 days henceforth from this Tuesday. Then in the next paragraph, the DEC is all saying, well, we're going to work out fine order and get fines levied and so forth for violation of the law. I say that they're not following the constitution of this United States because they set it up courts, and their step-courts as you go along. This town utilized those step-courts in that landfill process. Now, where does the DEC come and say: You can be fined when you were never in violation of the law because the courts granted permission to be operated so you were never in violation, so where's the fines? The only time that I think fines can come in if you exceed Judge Werner's 90 day period henceforth from this Tuesday.

Now, on her standards, Mel Miller is still in violation of his mail fraud law that he violated when he was convicted. Now, I don't know whether most people know it or not, but he was just rendered free and exonerated I guess the word was, by the court and where all high politicians have a friend in Jesus, if you get my drift. So, but her standards is he's still in violation even though that he's been deemed free from the first trial. So that's my interpretation of this whole thing. She sort of sounded like my wife yelling at me: Hey you had all summer to caulk those windows but you didn't get them caulked now the winter's coming in. So she sounded like she was balling the three towns out because you had so many years to do this. But you got relief through the courts and never required.

Now, my last comment. This guy in Washington that's in charge of the Postal Services, I think they call him Marvin Runyan (phonetic). On the 5th of August, he came out with a statement and said: All employees will have a background checked and so forth (inaudible) what have you. It's not the new employees that's coming in. It's the ones that's already been there for years and it's in supervision and have got power up the you know what, and they kick people around and get them agitated. That's where the trouble is. And we got smart people down there you know on this.

Now, the final case is the ADA, the American Disability Act, just passed July a year ago. I don't think it's going to hold water because there's a case going on right now in Central Virginia where the girl worked 20 years on the job, she suddenly become emotionally disturbed about eight years ago. Took medicine, the medicine made her heavy, up to about 200 and 50, 60 pounds. Now a change of management come along. The change of management don't want no heavy-set girl, lady out there. They want these little thin, skinny ones sitting out there, looks mighty posing for them. So, she's out. Now, there's going to be a lawsuit over it, but and I don't think the ADA's going to hold water, but we'll try."

Supervisor Janoski: "The Board will now take up the Resolutions. Oh, wait a minute. The young lady in the back, you had raised your hand earlier."

Patricia Miller: "Good evening. My name is Patricia Miller. I live in Two Bears Estates, Lot 41. Our house is the house that's supposed to be lifted because it was built too low and has a flooding problem. As to date, we have not received a reply to our August letter sent to Pat Moore, Town Attorney. We have received a letter from Harriet Gilliam, which pinpoints the reasons why we couldn't sign the letter from Pat Moore, I think it was July (inaudible), indicating the site plan (inaudible). The site plan does not establish the scope of the work, timetables, warranties, or the rights, liabilities or the remedies. We sent the letter requesting answers to a few questions and we can still add to that list. There is a lack of communication and we do feel ignored. There is also so far a lack of written agreement. We have lived in the house for nearly two years. My children go to school here and they have their friends here. There is no way that we would sell or could sell this house. Who would want to buy a house with the flooding problems of this magnitude.

I don't want my family to keep reliving the situation that we experienced this last big flood. We lost a lot then and we're not going to lose anything else. What we want to know is will the house be raised? Will we have a contractual agreement outlining and agreeing to the obligations and the scope of the work, the extent (inaudible) contract and what happens if it all does not work?

Also, we (inaudible) in John Raynor that the work would commence between August and September and we haven't heard a thing thus far.

Two more things. If this does happen, will John Raynor oversee this? And, also, being that this is a very political time of year, I want to know where this all stands when people and seats change. I don't want to have to keep coming up here (inaudible). I know a few of you have stated that you're tired of this situation. Well, add stressed out, sleepless nights, tension and illness and you can feel the way we do. Thank you."

Patricia Moore: "I have to apologize. I didn't write to you, but my agreement with John Raynor was that he was going to be in contact with you and I think he has been in contact with you a couple of times."

Patricia Miller: "He couldn't answer our questions."

Patricia Moore: "Okay. He is waiting for the-- he was supposed to be speaking with Don's House Movers, that's the company that would be doing the work. I obviously can't answer who's going to do the work, the warranties and so on until we see the contract with Don's House Movers and negotiate with them how they are going to do it, under what conditions, who's-- you asked who's going to supervise. That we know. John Raynor's going to supervise. So there's been communication with John and I know I've tried to be in touch with him for Friday and today is Tuesday, first day back. Right? I tried to reach him. We've been missing each other and I've been trying to get at least some answers to, you know, where he is in the process of negotiating with you in particular. Regine (phonetic) Tuft called me. She's planning to come in at the end of this week, either Thursday or Friday and, again, I'm trying to coordinate with John Raynor. Understand that when meetings take place, I have at least five people I try to incorporate into a meeting, so to accommodate everybody's schedules is sometimes very difficult. But I'm not avoiding answering your questions. I just personally can't answer those questions and I know I've gotten a memo from Ms. Gilliam and I'm prepared-- I have a draft of it-- ."

Patricia Miller: "You could have told me that."

Patricia Moore: "Well, John Raynor was supposed to be talking to you and I apologize. I ask that the message go through John Raynor because he-- when I left him here, he was saying-- he said to me that he was going down to meet you at the house. So I assume that there was some discussions going on. To the extent I haven't put in writing, you know, please communicate with John Raynor, what have you heard from John Raynor, I am sorry, I just-- we would be shuffling papers rather than trying to solve the problem. We are trying to solve the problem. Just as far as I got was that Don's House Movers was the company and I don't know where you-- if you've met with them or what."

Patricia Miller: "We haven't gotten anything."

Patricia Moore: "Yes. I'm sorry. I have to apologize. There's really no excuse. It's just my misunderstanding with John Raynor."

Councilman Prusinowski: "Mrs. Miller, did you receive a letter from me? I sent you a letter the day after John, again, the questions that you had which I reviewed, your 10 questions, he didn't have all the answers because at that time we didn't have the contractors lined up. Once he has the contractors lined up, and he has some of them, they were going to review the job and they were going to respond to you in writing and then meet with you personally to go over this process, which is dramatic because they are going to raise your house. And we're waiting for two things.

The first thing we're waiting for is the Tufts to come across with the moolah, okay, that's number one with the money. And number two, John Raynor has already disbursed some of the plans, all the plans, to the contractors and he's going to meet with them to review them to see if they have any questions. Now, the money part we're supposed to straighten out very shortly, is that right, Pat?"

Patricia Moore: "Yeah. They were having obviously personal problems that the Tufts had to get their-- between the two principals agree on who was providing what funds and so on, and they asked for two weeks and the Board was just notified of that last Thursday. So in the next two weeks, we should be getting some kind of consensus from the Two Bears principals, and from that point we can then-- there's two things that we're waiting for. One is the escrow money because your job, all the drainage work, we're not going to rely on their promises. We want money backing the work. Because we want to make sure the contractors get paid and that the work is done to everybody's satisfaction."

Patricia Miller: "But you can understand about the contractual agreement about something in written form."

Patricia Moore: "I understand. That's right. Well, the escrow's intended to be in writing and with all the conditions that we're going to impose on them."

Patricia Miller: "Do you understand why we could not sign the-- "

Patricia Moore: "Oh, sure, I had no problem with that and you had very legitimate questions that I wish I could have answered, but they were technical questions, like, you know, what's the plan look like? There were about 10 different questions. Can I have a mobile home on my-- while it's being done. Those kind of things, I think, I would have no problem with a mobile home. I don't think the Board would have as a temporary measure while you're lifting. However, these are things that we first have to find out what the time frame is on moving a house, it's beyond my expertise and we have to talk to a house mover. Yours really was the easiest situation because when I spoke to Two Bears regarding Miller, they said, Oh yeah, no problem. We have Don's House Movers. The first thing I did was I called John Raynor and said what's this company like? And he said, no, they're very reputable. They're the house movers on the east end. So this is a legitimate company. So with that, we're kind of-- we're very close. It's just trying to get everybody in the same room together and come to an agreement. It's been frustrating."

Patricia Miller: "Do you think this will be happening soon? Some-time within the warmer weather?"

Councilman Stark: "Who's coming in Friday, Pat?"

Patricia Moore: "Regine asked to come in with her attorney and I'm trying to get John Raynor and all the Board members that are available."

Councilman Stark: "Mrs. Tuft is coming in Friday?"

Patricia Moore: "Mrs. Tuft, she's really the principal-- Two Bears bought out Two Bears and she asked for Thursday or Friday. Her attorney's available on Friday. I'm going to see when John Raynor is available. I called him today and he's running all over the place, so we often miss each other."

Patricia Miller: "If this takes a little bit longer which it probably will, with the elections and all, we won't have to be starting from square one, will we? I mean, this will take off just where it left off?"

Patricia Moore: "Even if we have to write a memo to the file. If any of us are gone, we will write a memo to the file saying this is where we left off, so, no, it's going to be done in the next month. I mean if we have anything to say about it, it's going to be done in the next month. We're dealing with people on the other side that we have to bring them in and sit them down and say: Well, give us the money and give us the contract and, you know, enough of the preliminaries, let's get you started."

Councilman Prusinowski: "And John Raynor is going to supervise the work?"

Patricia Moore: "Yes, yes, definitely."

Patricia Miller: "All right, thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Yes, George, what is it? Very quickly."

George Schmelzer: "Steve's confusing me. He mentions they want skinny girls instead of fat girls. Well, the fat girls are really the skinniest because it takes more skin to hold a fat girl than it does to hold a thin girl. So the fattest ones are the skinniest really. Okay. Last meeting Joe told me he wasn't a hypocrite 'cause his house lot is an acre. I looked it up, it's only 5 acres. I mean five-eighths of an acre, pardon me. Mr. (inaudible) must have given you a screwing because you only got five-eighths of an acre, you thought you had one? I hope you (inaudible) buying an acre, you only got five-eighths."

Supervisor Janoski: "Well, my survey shows a full acre, George, I don't know what you're looking at."

George Schmelzer: "I have a copy of the deed, I had it figured by a computer, comes out to 51 square feet over five-eighths of an acre."

Supervisor Janoski: "Laverne, at your convenience, if Mr. Schmelzer would like, would you take him down to the Assessor's Office and show him my property? Mr. Schmelzer, do you have anything that you would like to add to the conduct of this meeting?"

George Schmelzer: "About your deed, no. Only you're in the same boat as the other four. That's all. So, wait-- ."

Supervisor Janoski: "And, Laverne, if I do not have a full acre, would you please adjust my assessed value? Thank you, George."

George Schmelzer: "Yeah."

Supervisor Janoski: "Let's take up the Resolutions."

George Schmelzer: "Wait a minute."

Supervisor Janoski: "No, we're not-- we're done with you, George."

George Schmelzer: "Something else."

Supervisor Janoski: "There is nothing else. I'm sorry."

George Schmelzer: "Yes, there is."

Supervisor Janoski: "Well, you can-- we're going to do the Resolutions."

George Schmelzer: "You allowed me to come up here to speak. You didn't limit me when I got up here."

Supervisor Janoski: "Do you have anything that's of-- ?"

George Schmelzer: "Yes."

Supervisor Janoski: "Let's hear it."

George Schmelzer: "This Okeanos project. I looked up the taxes today and Goodale pays about $36,000 taxes on that land and building. You know where it is. I suggest why don't they put that fish museum or whatever you call it on the county property just east of River Avenue, just east of where the (inaudible) is. County land, that doesn't pay any tax anyway, where there's no taxes, we lose no taxes, and there's plenty of room there for parking. How about it?"

Supervisor Janoski: "I think that you should contact the County Executive at your earliest convenience."

George Schmelzer: "I'm contacting you. Because you're the Executive here."

Supervisor Janoski: "It's the county's property. I believe that they are moving the highway, I'm sorry, the Department of Public Works out of there, and that can't happen soon enough, but it's a beautiful piece of property."

George Schmelzer: "Because to me this is only a boondoggle to spend millions of dollars of government money, federal money, so no wonder couldn't balance the budget. No wonder Bush couldn't-- no wonder Regan couldn't. All you guys, all you do is mooch. It's become a moochocracy, every town in the country is doing the same thing (inaudible) all this debt. And that's about it, so, but, you know, I can't move very fast because I got this damn Lyme disease and I should have had a tick collar around my neck before, but I didn't so I've got some tick collars for you. You can put them around your butt, or your neck, or your leg. I don't think you can put this around your butt because I think you are a little too big there."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, George. I don't see any price sticker on these. Thank you, George. You really made it worthwhile coming here this evening. Now, could we take up the Resolutions?"

George Schmelzer: "I couldn't-- I tried to get one for politicians but they don't make them, only for man's best friend, the dog, so while politicians are not man's best friend, I couldn't get any."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you."

George Schmelzer: "Thank you very much."

Supervisor Janoski: "And thank you for the round of applause in the back. Let's us take up the Resolutions."

Supervisor Janoski: "Moved and seconded."

The Vote: Gilliam?

Councilwoman Gilliam: "I just have a question on this Resolution as to the equipment that's being purchased. Excuse me, repair."

Councilman Prusinowski: "Those are Highway."

Councilman Creighton: "He has an annual budget of about $125,000 for the purchase of equipment. This probably is coming out of that, an item going into repairs."

Councilwoman Gilliam: "Well I know there was also a Resolution a couple of Board Meetings ago where there was-- we went out to borrow with regard to the Highway Department, did we not?"

Unidentified: "Yes, we did."

Councilwoman Gilliam: "Is that part of this?"

Unidentified: "No, it's not. It's totally separated."

Councilman Creighton: "Part of the $125,000 in his budget for each year is going to liquidate the bond for the piece of equipment that was purchased in that Resolution. There was a balance for this year and subsequent years in that capital purchase line item in the budget, and that would account for the $30,000."

Councilwoman Gilliam: "Well, I'm going to abstain."

Supervisor Janoski: "You know, if the Highway Superintendent himself were here, perhaps he could answer the question. I am not familiar with the piece of equipment to be repaired and if the Board wishes to take any action like tabling this until sufficient answer can be obtained, of course, these Resolutions sometimes will come to us without explanation. We can either table it or move on."

Councilwoman Gilliam: "Well, I will make a motion to table."

Councilman Creighton: "I'll second that motion."

Supervisor Janoski: "A motion to table, moved and seconded."

The Vote: Gilliam, yes; Creighton, yes; Stark, yes; Prusinowski, yes; Janoski, yes. 5 yes to Table.

Councilman Stark: "Seconded."

Supervisor Janoski: "Moved and seconded."

The Vote: Gilliam, yes; Creighton, yes; Stark, yes; Prusinowski, yes; Janoski, yes.

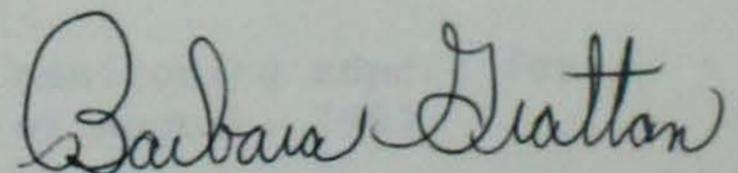

Alice Graff: "Alice Graff, Riverhead. When you were talking about the Highway Department, there's something I've always wanted to ask about that. Usually, ninety-nine and ninety-one hundreds per cent of the time, there's always somebody here representing each Department at the Town Board Meeting. But in all the years that I have been attending the meeting, I have never seen Charlie Bloss or his people represented here. Is this not required or is this whatever?"

Supervisor Janoski: "His attendance-- he is sometimes here. I have as a matter of fact, more than urged Department Heads to be here at Town Board Meetings. Mr. Bloss is an elected official. He doesn't take orders from me or anybody else."

Alice Graff: "I realize that because I've had a few little words like the signposts that have been removed, and I know that you cannot do anything about it, but it kind of disturbs me more than just a little bit. Thank you."

Supervisor Janoski: "Thank you, Alice. Without objection, this Meeting is adjourned."

Meeting Adjourned: 8:26 P.M.

TOWN CLERK
