PERSONAL APPEARANCES

Supervisor Leonard asked if anyone wished to be heard and the following responded:

Mrs. Elizabeth Dascal, Ridge Road, Ridge, Pres. of Volunteers for Animal Welfare and also on the Canine Committee of Brookhaven expressed her disappointment at the Board's apathetic attitude towards animal welfare in Riverhead.

She then spoke of the Supervisor's retort, as printed in Suffolk Life, regarding wall-to-wall carpeting and dishwashers for the dogs, as being a ridiculous statement and hoped the taxpayers of Riverhead would be better represented in the future.

Supervisor Leonard replied that two weeks before her visit to the Riverhead Pound, the A.S.P.C.A. was there and the only complaint they had was the manner in which the excess animals were disposed of.

Margaret Reidy, Riverhead stated that she had requested the a humane officer from the A.S.P.C.A. to investigate the euthanasia procedure at the Pound and that's all he investigated.

Judge Manning asked what other problems she felt should be dealt with at the Pound.

Mrs. Reidy stated that was no system of logging the animals as they were picked up, so that if someone called up to find out if their dog was there, no one would know.

Judge Manning replied that he meant problems, with reference to the building itself.

He further commented that both he and Councilman Menendez have inspected the Pound on their own and found it to be clean and amply lit.

Mrs. Reidy stated that the Judge jumped from a box to a building.

She then said that the dogs eat from rusty dishes.

Supervisor Leonard stated that the dishes are washed every morning.

Mrs. Reidy snapped back that she didn't say they weren't washed! She went on to say that the arrogant attitude of the Board was not the way to go about this and was just waylaying any kind of constructive criticism presented by the taxpayers!

Supervisor Leonard replied that he felt she was taking too much on her own, because the complaints of the A.S.P.C.A. were not as bad as hers.

Paul Meyer spoke on the conditions of Riverhead's Dog Pound and said that compared to some others he's seen, "ours is a Tiffany".

He spoke of the hunting season and complained about the men shooting too close to his house. He then addressed himself to Judge Manning saying that last year when he made this same complaint, the Judge had assured him that there was a new law prohibiting hunting within the hamlet of Riverhead.

Judge Manning stated that that statement was partially true, in that, at the time, the Board was working on a hunting ordinance, but it never came about.

Mr. Meyer then said that he wondered if some law could be enacted to protect the citizens.

Judge Leonard commented that they had a public hearing on this very subject, last year, and the hunters came out in force and voiced their objections and the ordinance was never adopted.

Mr. Meyer asked if that meant that it was a closed issue.

Judge Leonard replied that as far as he was concerned, it should be brought up again.

Mr. Meyer then spoke on one of the editorials in the Suffolk Life, stating that he didn't always agree with Mr. Willmott, because he didn't always get his facts straight.

He then read an excerpt from a recent editorial concerning saving money, at the expense of a pretty park and a bicycle path for the kids.

Eva Nicosia from the Jamesport Improvement Society asked if the bid on conversion of the heating system in the old Jamesport School would be resubmitted right away.

She further commented on various groups who were anxiously waiting to start using the building.

Judge Leonard asked if there was any way that space heaters could be used in certain rooms for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. Nicosia replied that space heaters would not take care of heating the water pipes for the bathrooms.

Discussion followed.

Judge Manning stated that the Board has been told by Mr. Ross and Mr. Budd that the boiler in the Jamesport School is paper thin and should be condemned.

He then stated that at first, Mr. Mapes went down and thought that maybe something could be done with it and drew up the specs for the bid. He later discovered that the boiler was not good enough and didn't even bother to submit a bid.

After more discussion, it was decided that the Board meet with Mr. Mapes and Mrs. Nicosia to try and bring about a solution.

Roy Hooper spoke on the proposed purchase of the Benjamin and Corwin Houses for historical purposes and stringly voiced his objection to spending the taxpayers' money for such purposes.

He also brought up the subject of the Morrell Property on Peconic Avenue and objected to that project, as well.

Town Attorney, Allen M. Smith spoke on the offer of Mr. Bugdin to donate a cherry tree for the new Town Hall Site, saying that it has been determined by members of Mr. Dan Fricke's office in the Cooperative Extension Service, that the tree is not worth moving.

He then requested $50.00 be introduced to cover the cost of the two trees.
